WAR SECRETARY ON SITUATION

Lord Kitchener Well Satisfied With Progress Made in War, but Calls for 300,000 More Recruits.

ALLIES WILL USE ASPHYXIATING GAS

Driven to Its Employment by Action of Germans—General Review of Positions of Various Combatants.

LONDON, May 18.—In the House of Lords this afternoon, Earl Kitchener, War Secretary, said he wanted 300,000 more recruits to form new armies. He expressed his confidence that in the very near future the country would be in a satisfactory condition with regard to the supply of ammunition.

The news from Gallipoli Peninsula, in other words, the Dardanelles, was thoroughly satisfactory, Earl Kitchener declared.

The Secretary for War also said that the British and French Governments felt that the allied troops must be protected adequately against poisonous gases by the employment of similar methods. These would remove the enormous and unjustifiable advantage which otherwise must exist.

Matter of Self-Defence

"The Germans," said Lord Kitchener, "have persisted in the use of these asphyxiating gases whenever the wind favored or other opportunity occurred, and His Majesty's Government, no less than the French Government, felt that our troops must be adequately protected by the employment of similar methods or as to remove the enormous and unjustifiable disadvantage which must exist for them if we take steps to meet on his own ground the enemy who is responsible for the introduction of this pernicious practice."

The War Secretary had this to say concerning the position of the Russians:

"The Russians now hold a strong line from the Eastern Carpathians to Przemysl, which forms a pivot of their lines, and the route along the San to the Vistula. In Bukowina, the Russians have made a counter offensive and driven the Austrians back from the Dniester to the Pruth. The German losses in killed and wounded have been enormous, and many thousand unwounded prisoners have fallen into the hands of the Russians."

Turning to the Dardanelles, Earl Kitchener said the progress of the Allies was necessarily slow, since the country was most difficult.

"But the Turks are gradually being forced to retire from positions of great strength," he continued, "and though the enemy is being constantly reinforced, the news from this front is thoroughly satisfactory."

Earl Kitchener then turned to the South African campaign and the occupation by the Union of South Africa troops of Windhoek, capital of German Southwest Africa.

"The military ability displayed by General Botha has been of a very high order," the Secretary said in this connection, "and has confirmed the admiration felt for him as a commander and as a leader of men."

Indian soldiers were utterly routing the Turks in Mesopotamia, the Secretary asserted, and were gradually clearing the whole country of hostile forces.

More Men Wanted

Referring in eulogistic terms to the men in the new army, Earl Kitchener concluded:

"I said I would let the country know when more men were wanted for the war. The time has come, and I now call for 300,000 men to form new armies.

"Those who are engaged in the production of war material of any kind cannot leave their work. It is to men who are not performing their duty that I appeal, and I am convinced that the manhood of England is still available and men will loyally respond.

"In my first speech in your lordships' House I pointed out that this war would be a long one, and would demand great sacrifices. Those sacrifices have been cheerfully made by the people of this country, who not only responded in vast numbers to the summons to create the new armies required, but have since continuously supplied a constant stream of recruits, which has enabled us to maintain the forces in the field and training at their full strength, and with effective men.

"Your lordships have watched the growth of the new armies and have noted doubtless the difficulties which confronted us in providing them with all the material of war they required.

"I cannot speak too highly of the men and the devotion to duty they have displayed or of their cheerful acceptance of hardships."

Wounding of Premier Chagas

LONDON, May 18.—The Portuguese Minister announced that he has received a message from Lisbon which announced that the injury of Jose Chagas, who was shot by Senator Freitas, is not serious, and that unless complications set in, no grave consequences will result. The message adds that his assailant, Senator Freitas, was known to be irresponsible.

Dome Gold Discovery

NOME, May 18.—Reports of gold pioneers struck on Dome Creek, in the Council Mining District, have been confirmed. Pay dirt averaging ten cents a pan has been found. A large number of prospectors from Nome and Council have gone to the new diggings. There is much snow around Nome, and it is believed that the mining will be late this season. Water began running in some of the creeks yesterday.

RESIGNATION OF FIRST SEA LORD

Rumor Has It That Lord Fisher's Retirement Will Be Followed by Formation of Coalition Cabinet.

LONDON, May 18.—The resignation of the veteran sailor Lord Fisher from his post of First Sea Lord of the Admiralty because he and his nominal civilian superior, Mr. Winston Spencer Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, have been unable to work together, is probably the first step toward a sweeping reorganised of the British Government. A coalition cabinet, composed of the strongest men of both political parties, is believed to be the probable solution of the Government's differences. There is no question of a complete change of Government, and the retirement of several members of the Liberal cabinet to make way for the strongest men of the Unionist party is confidently expected.

Premier Asquith will remain at the head of the Government in any event, with Lord Kitchener and Sir Edward Grey, respectively the War and Foreign ministers, in undisputed possession of their present posts, while Mr. David Lloyd George, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Mr. Churchill probably will take new positions.

Of the Unionists, Andrew Bonar Law, the Opposition leader in the House of Commons, former Premier Balfour, Lord Derby and Austen Chamberlain almost certainly would enter the cabinet, and either Lord Curzon, Lord Milner or the Earl of Selborne from the Unionist leaders in the House of Lords. The Labor party would probably be represented by Mr. Arthur Sanderson, its chairman, and there is talk of both of the Irish leaders, Mr. John Redmond and Sir Edward Carson, becoming members.

For nine months the Liberal cabinet has conducted the war with loyal support from the leaders of the Unionist party in Parliament. Since the month of May brought the most critical days of the great struggle upon them, the British people of all parties have become more and more convinced that the management of their destinies by one political party cannot bring the full strength of the nation into the struggle. Consequently a reorganisation of the forces, it is thought, would meet a growing popular demand.

The Conservative newspapers have not felt the same obligation to respect the party truce that the parliamentary leaders have shown, and their criticisms of Government politics and of certain cabinet members have stirred up an undercurrent of discontent throughout the country.

The rupture between Admiral Fisher and Mr. Churchill was no surprise. One is a stiff-necked old man who is popularly credited with both the determination and the ability to command the navy as masterfully as Lord Kitchener commands the army, while the other is a strenuous and ambitious young man who is equally resolved to enforce his own views and naval policies.

A majority of the newspapers support Lord Fisher and sustain his argument that the naval campaign should be free from civilian control the same as the army has been.

FIELD AMBULANCE WORK

Third Canadian Corps Ends Fine Record in Attending to Wounded in Great Battle

WINNIPEG, May 18.—Colonel Dr. Watt, officer commanding the Third Canadian Field Ambulance, writing in acknowledgment of gifts sent forward by President Sidney Smith from members of the Grain Exchange, tells of the heroic work of this Canadian body in the battle of Langemarck. The letter reads:

"To give you an idea of our work I can only mention that in the battle in which the Canadians have just taken such a grand part 5,210 British and French wounded were treated by our ambulance.

"This is, I believe, a record. The suffering was terrible, and it seemed as if we were living in the lowest depths of hell, but one could indeed be proud to belong to the British race to see the fortitude of the wounded. Never a word of complaint, but the slightest kindness would bring a smile or a word of thanks, and I think that it was this alone that kept us going, as we never had a minute's rest day or night for seven days."

The Third Field Ambulance had its position to the left of the British line at Ypres, and when the French troops were driven back had to save for their wounded as well as the Canadians.

TERMS OFFERED TO ITALIANS

German Chancellor, in Address to Reichstag, Sets Forth Concessions Which Austria-Hungary Would Make.

BERLIN, May 18.—"You are aware," said Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the Imperial Chancellor, speaking in the Reichstag today, "that the relations between Italy and Austria-Hungary within the last few months have been strongly strained.

"From the speech made yesterday by Count Tissa you will have gathered that the Vienna Cabinet in a sincere effort to ensure enduring peace between the Dual Monarchy and Italy, and to take into account the lasting great vital interest of both empires, had resolved on far-reaching concessions to Italy of a territorial nature.

"I consider it proper to indicate these concessions to you:

"First, part of the Tyrol inhabited by Italians was to be ceded to Italy.

"Second, the western bank of the Isonso, in so far as the population was purely Italian, and the town of Gradisca, likewise, was to be ceded to Italy.

"Third, Trieste was to be made an imperial free city, receiving an administration which would insure Italian character of the city and to have an Italian university.

"Fourth, Italian sovereignty over Avlona (a seaport of Albania) and a sphere of influence belonging thereto to be recognised.

"Fifth, Austria-Hungary declared her political disinterestedness regarding Albania.

"Sixth, the national interests of Italians in Austria to be particularly respected.

"Seventh, Austria-Hungary to grant amnesty to political military prisoners belonging to the ceded territory.

"Eighth, further wishes of Italy regarding the general question to be assured every consideration.

"Ninth, Austria-Hungary, after the conclusion of the agreement, to give a solemn declaration concerning the concessions.

"Tenth, mixed commissions for the regulation of the details of the concessions to be appointed.

"Eleventh, after the conclusion of the agreement Austro-Hungarian soldiers, natives of the occupied territories, shall not further participate in the war.

"I can add," continued the Imperial Chancellor, "that Germany, in order further to strengthen the understanding between both parties undertook with the full agreement of the Vienna cabinet to give a full guarantee for the loyal fulfilment of these offers. Germany and Austria-Hungary herewith formed a resolution, which, if it should lead to result, would, I firmly believe, find an overwhelming majority in the three nations.

"With its parliament the Italian people will now decide whether it will reach the fulfillment of all national aspirations to the widest extent in a peaceful manner, or whether it will plunge the country into war and tomorrow draw the sword against its allies of yesterday and today.

Still Hopes for Peace

"I will not give up the hope entirely that the cause of peace will be better than the cause of war, but whatever the decision of Italy may be, we, together with Austria-Hungary, have done all within bounds of possibility to support an alliance which was firmly rooted among the German people and had brought profit and good to the three empires.

"If the alliance is torn by one of the three partners we shall knock together, without the other partner, how to meet the new dangers with unanimous confidence and courage."

The Chancellor's speech was loudly applauded from the galleries. The various secretaries of state were present. The president of the Reichstag opened the sitting by saying:

"We begin our work inspired will full confidence, which is justified by the course of events up to the present, without vanity, but with steadfast determination which has its root in unity and the justice of our course. The German people are looking forward quietly to the future, which must bring the development of all our forces for the good and greatness of our beloved Fatherland."

Missing Gunner Turns Up

KINGSTON, Ont., May 18.—Gunner Herbert Saunders, who was reported missing, has turned up. A letter received from him today by his wife states that he got five miles away from his battery in a skirmish, and it took him some time to find his way back. In the meantime he was placed on the missing list.

TWO ZEPPELINS ARE DESTROYED

Raiders of British Coast on Sunday Night Meet Disaster on Way Back—One Crew Captured, Other Drowned.

LONDON, May 18.—Both Zeppelins which took part in the raid on the British coast on Sunday have been destroyed, according to two dispatches published in different London papers this morning.

According to these advices, one of the German raiders was seriously damaged after attacking Calais and fell within the Allied lines near Dunkirk, forty men aboard being captured.

The other Zeppelin is reported to have been hit by shells of a French destroyer near Cape Grisnez and fell into the sea, all on board losing their lives.

How the second Zeppelin came to grief is told in this dispatch to The Daily News, also dated "North of France":

"Just after dawn this morning Monday), a Zeppelin flying from the direction of the English coast was sighted by the crew of a French torpedo patrol boat. The airship was flying slowly at no great height, thus offering a good mark for the gunners on board the destroyer. They fired several shots at her, and one at least took effect, for immediately afterward the huge craft was observed to have a very decided list on her.

"This increased momentarily, until presently the whole ship appeared to crumple up, made one or two frantic dives and fell into the sea a few miles from Gravelines and within sight of the Grisnez light.

"The Zeppelin and her crew disappeared in the sea, and bodies were afterward seen floating about in the vicinity."

Fourth Battalion's Losses

BRANTFORD, Ont., May 18.—Word of what happened one company of the Fourth Battalion near Langemarck, two weeks ago, when the Canadian brigade halted the Germans, was received today from Captain Colquhoun, who commanded a company of the battalion in that fight. When his company went into action it numbered 227 men. When, after six days in action the roll call was taken it was found that 160 had been killed or wounded or were missing. Captain Colquhoun was the only company commander in the Fourth Battalion who came out unwounded.

WAS CHASED OFF BY SUBMARINES

Steamship Etonian Might Have Been Able to Save Some of Lusitania's Passengers—Sighted Two Pirates.

BOSTON, May 18.—According to her captain, W. F. Wood, the Leyland steamer Etonian, which arrived from Liverpool today, was prevented from going to the rescue of the passengers of the sinking Lusitania by a warning that an attack might be made upon his own vessel.

The Etonian left Liverpool on May 6, a day before the Lusitania disaster. When Captain Wood was some forty miles from Kinsale he received a wireless call from the Lusitania for immediate assistance. The call was also picked up by the steamers City of Exeter and Narraganett. The Narraganett, Captain Wood said, was made a target for submarine attack, a torpedo missing her by a few feet, and her commander warned Captain Wood not to attempt to reach the Lusitania. Captain Wood, after receiving the Narraganett's warning sighted the periscope of a submarine about a quarter of a mile astern. He ordered full speed ahead and left the submarine slowly behind.

"No sooner had we lost sight of the submarine astern," he said, "than I sighted another. This one was directly ahead and on the surface. I starboarded hard away from him, he swinging as we did. About eight minutes later he submerged. I continued at full speed for four hours, and saw no more of the submarines. It was the ship's speed that saved her, that's all."

TRUNKS PACKED BY AMBASSADORS

Preparations of the Austrian and German Representatives Seem to Indicate Early Departure From Rome.

ROME, May 18.—Several cases and trunks belonging to Prince von Buelow, the German ambassador, and Baron von Macchio, the special Austrian ambassador, which are believed to have contained the documents of the two embassies, already have been sent out of the country. That of Prince von Buelow passed through the customs house at Chiasso, and that of Baron von Macchio through the customs authorities on the Austrian frontier. Neither was examined, being entitled to diplomatic immunity from search.

The Messagero says today that it is of the opinion that Prince von Buelow and Baron von Macchio are only awaiting definite instructions from their respective Governments to ask explanations of the Italian Government concerning Italy's purpose, and that this request will be answered by handing them their passports.

Prince von Buelow, the German Ambassador, and Baron von Macchio, the Austrian Ambassador, called at the Foreign Office at noon today and had brief interviews with Signor Sonnino, the Foreign Minister.

Admiral Bettolo, former Minister of Marine, asked tonight concerning his impressions as to the political situation, said: "My impression is that we shall probably fight, and that we are certain to win."

FRENCH SUCCESS IN ARRAS DISTRICT

Continuous Rains and Thick Mist Render Operations Difficult—Germans Report Their Usual Successes.

PARIS, May 18.—The official statement given out this evening by the War Office says:

"Continuous rains since Monday night and a thick mist, making it impossible to see for a distance of 300 feet, have rendered operations impossible.

"There have been no engagements on the entire front. Even the cannonading has been very weak."

The afternoon report reads:

"On the terrain to the west of the Yser Canal conquered by us yesterday and the day before yesterday, the Germans left about 2,000 dead and a great number of rifles.

"During the course of the engagements of yesterday we made some further prisoners.

"To the east of the canal we have reconstructed the positions recently taken by us.

"During the night the Germans undertook a particularly violent counter-attack, preceding this action by a bombardment with artillery and bomb-throwers. They were repulsed.

"In the region to the north of Notre Dame de Lorette, on the road from Aix-Noulette to Souchez, we checked completely by our fire two other German counter-attacks.

"As for ourselves we captured as a result of a night advance a group of houses near the cemetery of Ablain. Along all the front to the north of Arras the artillery fighting is continuing by day and night. The Germans have bombarded Arras with particular ferocity.

"In the region of Ville-au-Bois, near Berry-au-Bac, the enemy yesterday undertook a fresh attack but was repulsed easily."

German Statement

BERLIN, May 18.—German army headquarters today gave out the following statement on the progress of hostilities:

"In the Western theatre of war quiet reigned yesterday north of Ypres on the canal near Steenstraate and Het Sas. Southeast of Bessinghe, on the eastern bank of the canal, fighting developed at some points, and continues today. South of Neuve Chapelle yesterday, and again today, British attacks were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy.

"Renewed French attacks on the heights of Borette, near Ablain, and west of Souches, resulted in failure. Prisoners to the number of 150 remained in our hands at this point.

"Near Ailly the fighting of the infantry came to a standstill, and a French advance broke down under our flanking fire.

"In the Eastern arena of the war, on the Dubysa River, in the vicinity of Kjargole, a strong attack delivered by the enemy again was repulsed.

"German forces have been sent to attack Russian forces brought up south of the river Niemen. Yesterday Russians to the number of 1,700 were made prisoners.

"At a point north of Wyroka our cavalry threw back the Russian attacks on Mariampol.

"In the Southeastern theatre of the war, north of Przemysl from south of Jaroslau to the point where the Wieloka River joins the San, German and Austro-Hungarian troops have been fighting for passage over the San. The enemy is fleeing further towards the east and northeast between the Pilica and the Upper Vistula.

"Near Ilza and Lagow and in the vicinity of Stry, in Eastern Galicia, a big battle has been going on since yesterday."

Mr. Bryden, the gentlemanly Government whip, spoke strongly in favor of forwarding the mail to Victoria today, as suggested by the Speaker by the steamer Wright for Portland, whence he will depart for the scene of the Rocky Mountains.

Announcement

In view of the recent demonstrations of violence, we wish to inform the public that this business is, and has for several years been owned and operated entirely by British capital.

Our local record in public matters and upon all questions of loyalty, should make unnecessary any public statement upon the subject, but to emphasize the position, we would point out that Mr. W. P. Geoghegan, of Dublin, Ireland—our chief shareholder—is at the present time providing accommodation, medical and nursing attention for wounded British soldiers entirely at his own expense, and letters received from him at recent dates contain expressions of the most earnest loyalty and desires for the success of the just cause of the Allies.

In these circumstances, we feel sure that the attack upon our premises was due to a lack of knowledge of the true facts of the position, and will be recognized as an injustice which will not be repeated.

MISSING LIST GROWS LONGER

More Victorians Are Among Missing in Recent Heavy Fighting—Former Members of 88th Fusiliers Prominent.

Last night's casualty lists contained still further names of Victorians who are reported as missing. Some details of the careers of some of those who have figured on recent lists appear below.

Pte. Arthur D. Corker, wounded, was well known here and spent several years in this city. He is the eldest son of Rev. A. Corker, superintendent of the Industrial Mission, of Alert Bay, B. C., and is a native of Victoria. He came here several years ago and was first employed with the Bank of Nova Scotia and subsequently with the Vancouver Milling & Grain Company, of Vancouver. While here he served for some time with No. 1 Company of the 5th Regiment, and with that unit he went through the strike troubles at Nanaimo. His brother, Ambrose, enlisted at the same time and left with the First Contingent. He was educated at the C. M. S. School in England.

SERGT. LESLIE JULIER
Missing.

Pte. Kenneth B. Foyster, referred to in yesterday's casualty lists as Kenneth B. Foster, was born in England, his home being at Aspley Guise. He joined the 88th Regiment last Summer, shortly after the outbreak of war, and proceeded to the front as a member of the 7th Battalion. He is a cousin of Captain Tillard, of Saanich, who is now serving with the Suffolk Regiment. Mr. Foyster is a mining engineer by profession and was educated at Marlborough College. He was well known here and very popular.

Sapper R. E. Nash, reported wounded, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Nash, of Battery Street. He went to the front with the signaling detachment, to which he had been attached for more than two years. He is now in hospital at Aldershot and is progressing well. Sapper Nash was born in Alberta and came here ten years ago, receiving his education in the city schools. His two brothers are in the C. M. R. at the Willows Camp.

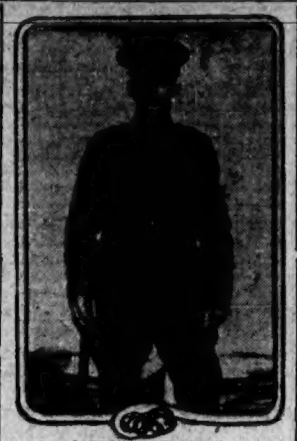

Sgt. G. Hamilton Bushnel, missing, resided in this city for about five years. For three years he lived with Mr. J. C. Hocking, of 345 St. James Street, James Bay, and prior to coming to Victoria he lived for some time in Vancouver, where he was a member of the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders. He has had considerable military experience. He fought in the Mexican War and participated in the battle before Sonora. He was wounded while defending the copper mines of Cananea with the Federal forces. He went back to his place of birth, Newark, N. J., where his mother resides, in order to recuperate, and as soon as he was well again the present war broke out. He went to Valcartier last Fall and joined his old regiment, the 72nd Seaforths, proceeding to the front with that unit. He enlisted as a private, but he was almost immediately promoted to the rank of sergeant. He is about twenty-eight years of age and unmarried. He served for three years with the Royal Northwest Mounted Police at Regina, and while in Victoria was employed as clerk with the International Securities Company.

PTE. A. D. CORKER
Wounded.

Sgt. R. W. Bateman, missing, joined the 88th Fusiliers in June, 1912, and served through the strike troubles at Nanaimo. He is thirty-six years of age, and had seen a good deal of previous service. He held a commission for three years in the 2nd Battalion, Worcestershire Regiment, and served with that corps through the South African War, for which he held the Queen's medal with five clasps. Sgt. Bateman came to Canada about seven years ago and was fruit ranching at Harrop, near Nelson, for several years. Subsequently he acted as agent for the Dominion Express Company on the C. P. R. boats running on the Okanagan Lake and at other points.

Pte. L. R. Walker, missing, came to Vancouver Island about three years ago, and purchased land near Qualicum Beach. He lived on his place and did much work there, clearing and improving the land. He is a son of the Rev. George Walker, rector of March, Cambridgeshire, England, and a nephew of Mr. C. F. Walker, of Tsouhalem, near Duncan, at whose home he spent much time. Pte. Walker is twenty-four years of age, and was known as a keen tennis player, both at Qualicum and Cowichan. He was a member of his school O. T. C. for eighteen months before coming to Canada. Pte. Walker has three brothers at the front. The eldest was killed a few weeks ago in the heavy fighting at Hill '60. His youngest brother is in the Flying Corps at the front.

SAPPER R. E. NASH
Wounded.

Pte. A. G. Sivell, missing, was a resident of Canada for twelve years, during the last five in British Columbia. He is aged thirty-eight. Making his headquarters in Victoria he worked on survey parties, and some time ago took up land at Parksville, where he spent a year prior to enlisting with the 88th Regiment on the outbreak of war. Before coming to Canada he was in the British merchant service for some years, during which he visited India and Africa. Shortly after his arrival in England with the 7th Battalion he was married to Miss Ethel Walker, of London. He has a sister and a brother who live at Medicine Hat.

Pte. Edgar N. Ford, missing, is the son of Mr. Walter Ford, of Coombs, B. C. He is twenty years of age, and was born at Duncan, where his father owned the Pemberton farm until a few years ago. Pte. F. H. Corker, missing, joined the 88th Fusiliers in August last. He was born in England and is nineteen years of age.

Pte. Leslie G. Scott, joined the 88th Fusiliers on the day war was declared. He was born in England twenty-four years ago, and served two years with the 1st Volunteer Battalion, Border Regiment, before coming to Canada. For three years he was a member of the 5th Regiment C. G. A.

Pte. Harry Howland, missing, lived in this city for several years, and two brothers, Mr. Thomas Howland, of the Land Registry Department, and Mr. H. Howland, of Spencer's, Limited, live here. A third brother is serving the colors with the Oxfordshire Yeomanry. Pte. Howland joined the 88th Regiment shortly after the outbreak of war, and left with the First Contingent. He is twenty-two years of age and unmarried.

Duce as a real estate agent, and he was also with Mr. F. G. Mulliner, baggage master of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for some time. He is a native of England and went to the front with the First Canadian Contingent as a member of the 7th Battalion.

Pte. F. W. Russell, missing, lived in this city for several years with the Misses O'Brien. He was born in London, England, and prior to coming to Canada, lived for several years with his family in Leicestershire. He received his education at Ratcliffe College and at Loughborough School. His father was for years secretary of the South Eastern Railway, of which his great-uncle was president. Pte. Russell came to Victoria some time ago and before he enlisted for active service was a member of the local ordnance department. He enlisted with the 88th Regiment, which was subsequently absorbed into the 7th Battalion. He was twenty-three years of age and unmarried.

PERFECT TEETH ARE NECESSARY

To Good Health and Attractiveness

Why are only men with good teeth accepted in the army and navy? Experience has taught the medical world that in order to have good health one must so thoroughly masticate their food that the same is easily assimilated and transferred into blood and bone. Without good teeth there is no mastication, without mastication there is little digestion, without digestion there is no life.

Teeth Filled and Extracted Painlessly

By my system of "ANALGESIA" I so thoroughly anaesthetize the tooth to be worked upon that there is not the slightest sense of pain. While the tooth is thus temporarily numbed, I remove every particle of decay and place my fillings or crowns so accurately that they will last a lifetime.

SCENE IN COMMONS

Prominent Temperance Advocate Rushes Into Chamber and Tries to Remove Mace

LONDON, May 18.—F. H. Cherrington, a prominent temperance advocate, who recently has been carrying on a propaganda against the playing of games during the war, created a scene in the House of Commons this evening. Rushing into the chamber during the debate on army pensions, Mr. Cherrington attempted to remove the mace from the speaker's table, at the same time shouting: "You have no right to make ——"

Before he could finish the sentence an attendant grabbed him and placed his hand over his mouth and quickly hustled the disturber out. The greatest excitement prevailed in the chamber, but the members of the House soon regained their serenity.

The removal of the mace, which the Speaker's chair would have become useless for proceedings to an end, for by time-honored custom the House is not legally in session unless the mace is in its place in front of the Speaker.

THE CLERICAL SLANDERERS

The Christian Science Monitor is a newspaper, which, as a rule, seems to be very careful about its facts before indulging in comments on them; but in common with a great many people, it has accepted the statements of the group of clerical slanderers contained in Mr. Moses Cotsworth's pamphlet entitled "The Crisis in British Columbia," as the truth. The statements therein contained, while compiled by Mr. Cotsworth, are those of the Ministerial Association of the Lower Mainland, for that body has permitted its name to be placed on the cover as the sponsor for that elaborate tissue of direct falsehoods, unfair inferences, misrepresentations of the Province and scandalous assertions concerning British Columbia's public men. The Monitor says the pamphlet is the result of investigations carried on by the Ministerial Association, and it doubtless has been led to say this by the assertion of the secretary of the association, who has said in a published letter that the association had verified the allegations in the pamphlet. It is inconceivable that a reputable newspaper published in a foreign country would of its own accord give currency to the false assertions made with the authority of the Ministerial Association unless its attention had been specially called to them, and we, therefore, feel justified in saying that the members of the association, who have been instrumental in placing this pamphlet before the public are directly responsible for the publication abroad of this vile slander upon British Columbia in a newspaper which has probably the widest circulation of any printed on the continent of America. We would like to add that we do not believe the association as a whole can be held responsible for the pamphlet or the use that is being made of it.

Space is not available in the columns of any daily paper to take up the misleading and often false statements in this pamphlet, and we shall confine our observations this morning to one or two points; but these are of vital importance when the value of the pamphlet comes to be judged by an impartial observer, for if it is shown to be wrong in some essential matters, it will be discredited as a whole. We may state, however, in general terms that the whole pamphlet can be truthfully answered in a manner that will remove the reproach which it casts upon the Province and those responsible for the administration of its affairs.

One of the points upon which great stress is laid in the pamphlet is an alleged misstatement by either the Premier or the Minister of Lands as to the amount due the Province on land sales and the alleged concealment of the official return. On page 24 occurs the following: "On January 26, 1915, Premier McBride solemnly told the Legislature that there was upwards of $14,000,000 or $15,000,000 due to the British Columbia treasury by land purchasers in arrears. Three days later the Hon. W. R. Ross stated that the amount was only $8,026,000. Which of them are we to believe? Or did either of them know?" Before proceeding to the consideration of the allegation that the returns, brought down to the House and giving the actual facts, were suppressed and only made public after Mr. Cotsworth had discovered them, we shall deal with the alleged discrepancy between the statements of the Premier and those of the Minister of Lands. On Jan. 29, 1915, the Minister of Lands, in a speech delivered in the House, referred to this apparent discrepancy in the following words:

> A great deal has been said in the daily press with reference to the question of arrears on land sales. I wish to give you figures on these arrears, which aggregate about $8,000,000—made up on surveyed lands of $5,720,000, and on unsurveyed land, $2,346,000. It may be said that these figures do not correspond with the figures offered by Sir Richard McBride in his speech, but without doubt he was speaking of the total areas in connection with these sales, including townsite sales of something over $3,000,000 and interest accrued. But the fact remains that the total amount in connection with sales of the land, and exclusive of townsites, amounts to $8,000,000.

Here we have a complete explanation, and yet the Ministerial Association protests that they verified all the allegations in the infamous pamphlet which bears their name.

We shall now speak of the alleged suppression of the return showing the amount due on land sales. A return was moved for and brought down in due course and presented to the House. It has been the practice of the British Columbia Legislature ever since it was established, that in the event of there being a return, when a return was brought down to place upon the Journals a schedule of the fact, and the returns themselves are never printed on the Journals. All departmental reports, all answers to questions, all returns called for by resolutions form what are known as Sessional Papers, all of which are passed upon by the Printing Committee of the House, on which the Opposition is always represented. This committee selects from the Sessional Papers such of them as are of permanent value and they are printed in a volume separate from the Journals. A great many, probably the majority in number, of the papers have no permanent value, and these are filed away and not printed, but any person can see them if he so wishes, and, in fact, Mr. Cotsworth, compiler of the scandalous pamphlet, says he saw the return relating to the amounts due on land sales. But Mr. Cotsworth need not have gone to the trouble of looking up this return in the clerk's files, for on January 29, 1915, the day after it was presented, it was published in full in The Colonist, having been placed at the disposal of the press by the clerk, as all returns are as soon as they are brought down. And yet in the face of these facts the Ministerial Association had the hardihood to suggest that this return was held back by the Government to enable its friends to realize on their land, a senseless suggestion, and one that under the circumstances was equivalent to a deliberate falsehood.

The Monitor refers to certain maps issued by the Department of Lands. The reference, we gather from the pamphlet, is to two maps on a folder entitled "Surveyed Lands for Settlers." These maps show all the surveyed lands along the lines of the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Canadian Northern Pacific and the Pacific Great Eastern railways, and in areas not adjacent to these railways but within easy reach of them. It is nowhere stated that all the surveyed areas are open for pre-emption, as any one with elementary knowledge of maps would know at a glance; but it is expressly stated that of the surveyed lands 2,292,127 acres are held for pre-emption, the truth of which cannot be denied. When it is mentioned that the cities of North Vancouver, Quesnel, and Fort George, the Pemberton Meadows, all the country along the Cariboo Road, most of which has been in private hands for half a century nearly, Haselton, the settled areas in the Bulkley Valley and other localities that passed out of the hands of the Crown in these parts of the Province years ago and are now held by actual settlers are within the surveyed areas shown on this map, the silliness of the pretence that these maps are intended to represent that all the surveyed areas are open to pre-emption is apparent on its face. What the map is intended to show is the parts of the Province that have been surveyed. If any intending settler wishes to know if any lands shown as surveyed are open to pre-emption, he can ascertain on inquiry.

Just one other remark, for we have already exceeded the space we intended to occupy with this subject, and it is this: Any estimate of the arable area in British Columbia, outside of the surveyed lands, is only a guess, and experience has shown that the guesses are all on the safe side. No one can pretend to know how much there is.

THE WAR

The successes of the Allies in the West continue. There are no intimations that any advantages have been gained at any point by the Germans, but, on the contrary, new ground is being occupied by the Allies and their new positions are being strengthened. A new locality was mentioned in yesterday's dispatches, namely, Ablain, which is about a couple of miles north of Carency. The fact that our Ally is putting forth great efforts in the neighborhood of this point shows that the object of her activity is primarily to force the enemy to abandon the curve to the west, opposite Lens, which he has been able to hold during the winter. The British attacks against the enemy's line at La Bassee are evidently intended to force the Germans to abandon the wedge that they have maintained at that point for several months. A continuation of our successes only a little further would give us a straight line from Armentieres to Arras, and this would compel a complete readjustment of the enemy's lines along a distance of at least forty miles.

The defeat of the Austrian forces by the Russians in Bukowina seems to have been particularly severe. The Russians occupy the region between the Dniester and the Pruth, the latter river being the northern boundary of Roumania. It is believed in Petrograd that Czernowitz, the capital of Bukowina, is already in the hands of the Russians. This city is within five miles of the Roumanian frontier. Kolomea is mentioned as a point against which the operations of the Russians are now specially directed. This important railway junction is about thirty miles west of Czernowitz. Success here would imply something very like a collapse of Austria's resistance along this part of the line, especially if it is true that the army of Franz Josef is understood to be concentrating every means at its command in halt Kolomea. We note that the Russian cavalry is playing a very important part in hostilities here. Russia is exceptionally strong in cavalry, and Austria is not conspicuously efficient in this arm of the service. Petrograd also claims an important success in Western Poland, where the Germans have been driven back six miles at one point.

There was no news from the Dardanelles yesterday, but Lord Kitchener informed the House of Lords that operations were proceeding satisfactorily.

AN INTERESTING QUESTION

Is Germany riding for a fall? Has she realized that it is hopeless to expect success, and does she hope by arousing all the nations against her to prepare the way for peace, while yet she has something upon which to base a claim for favorable terms? If this is not her object her course is an amazing one. She surely cannot hope to stand against all the forces of civilization with no friend among the nations except Austria, which she has been able to bend to her will, and Turkey, which grasped at German protection in the vain hope of being able to turn back the hands of the clock of history. With Russia holding her at bay, and slowly crushing the life out of Austria, with Britain, France and Belgium daily demonstrating their supremacy, with Turkey facing certain defeat, with Italy seething with desire to launch her troops against her, Germany seems to be about to defy the United States. No explanation can be offered for this except that the dream of world-power having been shattered, no other hope remains to Germany than to save a semblance of an empire out of the inevitable wreck.

If this is the new German policy we are convinced it is doomed to failure. Civilization, the welfare of mankind, every principle of right and justice demand that the arch-criminal among the nations shall be placed in such a position that her powers for evil shall be destroyed. There can be no patched-up peace because the nation which caused the war and at whose door lies the responsibility for unparalleled atrocity, has discovered that she cannot win. There is no use in simply scotching the snake of militarism as exemplified at Potsdam. It must be killed, and the nation which has nourished it must be made to repay, as far as it can be repaid, the incalculable harm which it has inflicted upon the world.

And so we say that if Germany is riding for a fall, she must not be permitted to escape the punishment that is her due. If she is, all the sacrifices which have been made for the sanctity of treaties and the maintenance of freedom will have been in vain.

ITALY'S STRENGTH

How great a strength will Italy bring to the Powers of the Triple Entente is a question that is widely discussed as the day of her participation in the war draws nigh. No power at present neutral could exercise a greater pressure on the Teutonic Allies than Italy, because of her geographical position and the preparedness of her naval and military resources. Italy's army on a peace footing numbers 400,000 men. During the last nine months numerous divisions of the Reserves have been called to the colors, and it is estimated that within three months of embarking upon war Italy would have an army of 1,200,000 in the field. This number does not by any means exhaust her resources, as her strength on a war footing is 2,000,000, and even this large army could be still further augmented.

In naval strength she ranks fifth among the world powers, and her fleet is exceptionally well organized. Its strength is shown in the following table:

Battleships—
1st class (Dreadnought)	12
2nd class	4
3rd class	7
Armored cruisers—
Battle-cruisers	6
Other types	9
Cruisers (modern, with speed of 25 knots and over)	4
Destroyers (ten years old, or less)	35
Torpedo boats (modern)	65
Submarines	25

The personnel of the Italian navy has a peace strength of 40,000, with 40,000 reserves.

There is no information of the character of the campaign that Italy will pursue if she decides to embark in the war. Presumably her first offensive movement would be directed against the Tyrol, while doubtless another expedition would be launched towards Trieste. Her battle line would stretch along the entire Austro-Italian frontier. From a naval standpoint she can be of great assistance to the Entente Powers. It is one of Italy's greatest ambitions to have uninterrupted sway in the Adriatic. Britain and France may possibly be inclined to leave the conduct of the campaign in that sea to the Italian fleet, and this would relieve a number of ships that could be used in the operations against the Dardanelles. There is hardly a doubt that Italy's aspirations, if she enters the war, will go beyond the spheres to which we have alluded. She may be able to spare an expeditionary force to assist the Franco-British troops on the Gallipoli Peninsula. Without a doubt she will take part in the operations against the Mediterranean coast of Asia Minor, for there her commercial interests are considerable, and she is anxious to extend the sphere of her influence. Her entry into the war might have the effect of determining the course of action which the Balkan States will pursue, coupled as it would be with the Russian advance in Bukowina. Roumania has wavered so often, awaiting developments, and has been so uncertain a factor in the international situation that interest in her ultimate decision has considerably waned, as it has, for the same reasons, in the course which Bulgaria will pursue. But if any element in the situation were likely to have an effect on these two states it is the participation of Italy on the side of the Entente Powers. From a political standpoint the pending decision of Premier Salandra's Cabinet is the most important world event that has arisen for many months. Having a decisive victory won by the Allies, there is nothing more likely to shorten the duration of the war than the entrance of Italy into the conflict.

Tomorrow is now said to be the day when Italy will declare war. We can afford to wait twenty-four hours, and so will not express any opinion as to the likelihood of the report being correct. The only thing that need be said is that Austria may not wait until tomorrow.

At this writing it is impossible to say what amount of truth there may be in the talk of a reconstruction of the British Cabinet, but if such a step is found to be necessary it will not indicate any lack of harmony as to the policy of continuing the war, but only a desire on the part of Mr. Asquith to strengthen the hands of the Government in every possible way. Ever since the war began the Ministry has had the whole-hearted co-operation of the Opposition, and as it has been agreed that all contentious subjects shall await the conclusion of the war, there is no reason why Mr. Balfour or any Unionist may not enter the Cabinet if invited to do so.

Jitneys and Market Day

Sir,—In your paper on Saturday Miss Lawson has an excellent article boosting the market.

It has occurred to me a good method to adopt would be for all the jitneys to start and finish their routes at the market and to put up a notice of "Market Day" on each car. This would mean more business for both the "jitney" and the "market."

Churches and the War

Sir,—Since infancy I have been a member of the Church of England. Sometimes, when viewing the terrible conflagration in Europe, I cannot but feel that not only the Church of England, but all other religious denominations have failed in the mission, the dominant feature of which is to preach "Peace on Earth, Goodwill to All Men." That the most terrible war ever known is now raging proves conclusively that churches have no influence on public opinion in anything which vitally effects the existence of mankind and of nations. Do they feel humiliated at their failure, do they seek a reason for it? I notice in The Colonist of May 16 that a British Columbia Cabinet Minister has to refute statements scattered broadcast by what is termed "The Ministerial Union of the Lower Mainland of British Columbia," and I wonder—wonder if, had church ministers the world over devoted less time to politics, had they tried to teach people by example and suasion, rather than by fear of the law, had they followed the example of Christ their Master, who, when on earth never appealed to the law nor dabbled with politics or lawmaking, but simply preached "Peace On Earth, Goodwill to All Men," and said "follow me," I say I wonder, had they done these things, would they have more influence for the good of mankind and would there have been war today.

The Liberal Canvass

Sir,—I wish to correct any false impression that may have arisen in the minds of some concerning the statement made by Mr. J. D. Taylor in your issue of May 18th.

Mr. Taylor states that as chairman of Ward I. Liberal Committee I instructed him to file objections on the strength of the information he had gathered as one of a committee of twenty who were engaged in carrying out the organization of the ward.

I may state that the work of the committee was to canvass the ward for the purpose of placing names on the voters' list, and not to remove names already on. Mr. Taylor exceeded his instructions in filing objections against names already on the list. He tried to get both myself and the committee to endorse his action, but this was never done. He asked me on two or three occasions if I did not think it would be in the interests of the Liberal party to object to voters who had left the district or were dead. I replied that I believed it would not only be in the interests of the Liberal party, but of all parties, to have an accurate voters' list, because I believed in a clean election. Mr. Taylor replied that he had seen abuses creep in at previous elections because names had not been removed and others voted in their places. He said, "I am going to object to as many as I can." I replied that I had heard that no effort was going to be made before the May court of revision by either party to file objections, for fear that men on active service might be disfranchised, and that if he, Mr. Taylor, persisted in doing so, it would be on his own personal responsibility, and not with the sanction of Ward I. Committee.

Mr. Taylor also spoke to members of other ward committees about his objections. I heard him discussing the matter with Mr. A. R. Fraser. Mr. Fraser asked him if he understood the meaning of "the electoral district." Mr. Taylor replied, "Oh, yes: I understand the electric district."

The Central Executive Committee in the meantime passed a resolution to the effect that we as a Liberal party in Victoria would at this time file no objections. Mr. Taylor heard me state this at our ward committee meeting, and still he persisted with his objections.

When Ward I. Committee learned that Mr. Taylor had actually handed in his list to Mr. Harvey Coombes, a meeting was called to deal with his action. A resolution was unanimously passed requesting Mr. Taylor to withdraw his objection or resign as a member of Ward I. Committee. Mr. Taylor handed in his resignation previous to the Court of Revision.

Mr. Taylor, I believe, acknowledged at the Court of Revision that he did act on his own responsibility.

M. RAYNOR,

Chairman Ward I. Committee.

SIR RICHARD M'BRIDE CALLED TO PARIS

Will Take Up With French Government Question of Placing B. C. Salmon on Army Ration List.

Sir Richard McBride yesterday cabled the Hon. W. J. Bowser from London to the effect that he was proceeding to Paris, where he would consult with officials of the French Government on the question of British Columbia tinned salmon being placed on the list of army rations of that country. The expectation is held that there is an excellent chance of an arrangement being made to this end. Sir Richard intimated that he intended remaining in France until Saturday, and a press cable yesterday stated that he might seize the opportunity of proceeding to the front and renew acquaintance with the Canadian troops.

The London Standard of April 29 had the following: "Sir Richard McBride, Premier of British Columbia, who is now visiting London, told a Standard of Empire representative that his Province, in common with the rest of the Dominion, was concentrating its attention very largely on the war and was directing its efforts towards assisting the Federal authorities in the enlistment of desirable and efficient men for the Canadian contingents. In proportion to population, the Pacific Coast Province had responded admirably to the call. The general response from Canada had been splendid, added Sir Richard.

"Speaking of local conditions, the Premier said that it was necessary to remember that the Far Western Province was further removed from London than its fellows, and this handicap of distance meant more or less disadvantage now and then. This disadvantage should, however, be removed in great measure by recent railway developments.

Railway Development

"Within the past year the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway had completed its transcontinental line to Prince Rupert and had opened a through service between that point and Winnipeg. The region traversed by the G. T. P. was some 600 miles to the north of that section of the Province, through which the Canadian Pacific line passed.

"In the south the Canadian Northern Railway had completed its main transcontinental line to tidewater on the Pacific Coast, and by midsummer a through service would be inaugurated. This would not only give the Province a third transcontinental service, but would also place British Columbia in close touch with many towns on the C. N. R. system, which would become purchasers of the fruit, timber and fish produced by the Coast Province.

"With regard to the Canadian Pacific, it was safe to say that British Columbia had always had in Sir Thomas Shaubhnessy, the president of the railway, a very warm friend. Under the well-considered policy of Sir Thomas, the C. P. R. had in recent years made very extensive additions to their service.

"The principal new lines undertaken by the C. P. R. were the Kootenay Central, linking up the main line at Golden with the Crow's Nest route near Steele, and traversing the splendid Kootenay and Columbia valleys, and the Kettle Valley Railway from Midway to Hope, which practically gave the C. P. R. a second transcontinental line to tidewater, in addition to opening up the Nicola, Okanagan and Boundary districts.

Financial Outlook

"Last, but by no means least, there must be mentioned the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. It was hoped that by the end of the year connection would be made between Fort George, on the G. T. P. main line, and Vancouver. An extension of this line in a northerly direction from Fort George to the Peace River country was projected. The total mileage from the Peace River region to Vancouver would be about 800. From the Peace River, through Northern British Columbia, the Yukon and Alaska another link of 1,200 miles would give direct railway contact between the Great Northern Pacific country and the entire south. Although the proposal that the United States and Canadian Governments should co-operate to push forward this project had been temporarily shelved, Sir Richard said that he hoped the scheme would be taken up in the near future and pressed to completion.

"The financial position was sound, said Sir Richard, and all the Province's obligations to the world would be met. As it was a heavy borrower in the Old Country, he was anxious that it should get from the Mother Country as much business as it was possible for the latter to give, so that it should not be embarrassed in meeting interest charges.

TRAINING AS USUAL WHILE WAITING NEWS

Daily Programme Is Little Changed at Willows, Although Suspense Is Keen Among Soldiers.

Every officer, non-commissioned officer, private and trooper quartered at the Willows Camp is subjected to the keenest form of suspense just now. Those attached to the 48th Battalion and to the 2nd C.M.R. are expecting to receive news with respect to their departure at any moment. Meanwhile, however, work is being continued much as usual, except that Lieut.-Col. Holmes' command is being thoroughly outfitted with as little delay as possible. Today it is out on a long route march, not being due back until about 4 o'clock this afternoon, when there will be a close inspection of the feet of the men, in order to ascertain how much has withstood the fatigue of the outing. The C.M.R., however, as a result of its long period of training, is considered to the best of shape, and ready to respond wherever the call comes.

As soon as the two forces now under arms here have gone there are looked for providing for the recruiting of the 88th Fusiliers and the 50th Highlanders to full strength, thus providing for a nucleus for the formation of a new battalion. In this case, however, the latter would be taken to the concentration camp at Vernon as soon as established. Instructions have been received by the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders and the 6th Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles, of Vancouver, to recruit up to fifty additional men each, so as to fill the vacancies which will be created in the ranks of the 47th Battalion, of which Lieut.-Colonel W. N. Winsby is the O.C., by the dispatch of a reinforcement detachment of 750 men with officers. Such a force was to have been sent from the 48th, of this city, until it was intimated that the entire unit was to leave as a body. The recruiting referred to is in progress at Vancouver and New Westminster.

Mr. H. A. Tomalin-Jones, who left here on April 4 for England, has received a commission in the Durham Light Infantry.

A summary of some well-known Klondikers who have gone to the front is contained in a contemporary. It follows:

"Among the first of the Klondikers to hurry off to the war was A. J. McRury, a veteran of the Boer war, and of the Highland regiments. He was a British reservist.

"Andrew Hart, former chief of the Dawson fire department, and also a veteran of the South African war and the Nile campaign of the eighties with Gen. Wolseley, left last Fall. He went direct to England and there enlisted with the Legion of Frontiersmen, under Lieut.-Col. Driscoll, for the campaign in British East Africa.

"Among other Klondikers with the fighting men are: Alfred Couture, formerly with the Northwest Mounted Police here, now with the Winnipeg Mounted Rifles; Howard Grestock and Jack Watt, both South African veterans, now with the Strathcona Horse, which trained most of the winter at Salisbury; Fred Wheeler, brother of General Manager H. H. Wheeler of the White Pass and Yukon Railway, an artillery reservist, who left Dawson at the first call last Fall; J. Brooke Close, nephew of the head of Close Bros., the London and Chicago financiers, who control the White Pass, who has been in the trenches in France for weeks; Robert Milvain, for years manager of the Walker's Fork Dredging Company, near Dawson, who is a captain in the North Lancashire Regiment; former Constables Dooley, Greenway, Hull, Harvey King and Philip, who left some time ago for the long trip.

"Other Klondikers who also went to the front include Gustave Espenon and Edmond Groccas, French reservists, who were mining men here when called. Espenon was wounded in November by a splinter from a shell while in the maritime Alps. Corana Salamon and M. Miskedoff, two Russians, left during the winter, to make the long trip over the snow to join the Russian army.

"Quite a number of former Klondikers joined on the Coast or in Eastern Canada, and include Alexander McDonald, son of Charles McDonald, Vancouver lawyer, former clerk of the Yukon Court, who is with the Vancouver Highlanders; Joe Harkin, son of Mrs. Harry Hosking, a former Dawson school boy, who is with the third Canadian contingent."

DEATH AT TORONTO OF CANADIAN AUTHOR

Miss Mary Agnes FitzGibbon, Prominent in Historical Research and in Philanthropic Movements, Passes Away.

Miss Mary Agnes FitzGibbon, a prominent Canadian litterateur and philanthropist, died at Toronto, Ont., yesterday. She was born in Belleville, Ont. in 1851, but had spent the greater part of her life in Toronto, taking a leading part in the activities of the majority of women's organizations and in many progressive movements. Miss FitzGibbon was no relation to Mrs. Mary FitzGibbon, formerly of Toronto, Ont., and now a resident of Vancouver, B. C. the similarity of their names has led to a misunderstanding as a result of which Miss FitzGibbon, a daughter of Mrs. FitzGibbon who is in the city a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mara, has received inquiries from many friends. The mistake, also, has been due to the fact that Mrs. FitzGibbon is very well known in Canadian circles having written for years under various nommes de plume, the best known of which is "Lally Bernard."

Several notable achievements stand to the credit of the late Miss FitzGibbon. Her earlier efforts were devoted to literature and she was the author of a number of volumes which were widely read and commented upon at the time and now are considered almost indispensable in the assembly of a library dealing with early and contemporary history of Canada. In 1880 there was issued in her name "A Trip to Manitoba; or Roughing It on the Line;" then came "Home Work," in 1887; "A Veteran of 1812," in 1891; "Hero of Beaver Dam," and "Historic Days" a year later, and "A Trip to Niagara," in 1909. Collaborating with Miss Sara Mickie "The Cabot Calendar, 1497-1897" was produced in 1897.

Always keenly interested in historical research she organized in 1896 the Women's Canadian Historical Research Society and was corresponding secretary of that body. A work which she took up energetically at a comparatively late date was the alleviation of the lots of women who find it necessary to go out into the world to earn their livelihoods. In giving a practical turn to her theories on this problem she founded, with the assistance of her friends, the Female Immigrants' Receiving Home. This was established in 1905, and soon became known as an institution where a woman, without means or a home in Toronto, might obtain shelter and meet sympathetic advisors.

COUNCIL WILL HAVE CONTROL OF BUREAU

No Outside Body Will Have Place on Board Which Will Operate the Central Employment Organization.

The future conduct of the Central Employment Bureau will be under the direction of a committee of the City Council, which will undertake the work without having attached to it representatives of any outside organization. If other bodies have any recommendations to make as to the methods whereby the bureau's operations may be carried on the committee will welcome them, but all regulations will originate solely with the committee.

The future of the bureau was discussed at length at a special meeting of the Mayor and aldermen yesterday, at which the decision to appoint a Council committee to take charge of the work was made. The Rev. W. Stevenson, representing the Social Service Commission, urged a more ambitious scheme than the Council believed was necessary at the present time. He quoted from reports of authorities to show that a body in control of a bureau should be representative of the employing class and organized labor, and his arguments were supported by Mr. Day, of the Trades and Labor Council.

Mr. Stevenson submitted certain recommendations approved by the Social Service Commission to the effect that the bureau should be under the management of a board of commissioners, something along the lines of the Library Commission, and outlined a number of suggestions for the guidance of the body selected to operate the bureau. He believed it to be vital that the Council should be in control, but other organizations interested in the operations of the bureau should be associated in the management.

Alderman Todd expressed the belief that whatever might be the future of the bureau in respect to any Provincial or Federal organization along similar lines, the fact at present was that a situation had arisen here calling for prompt attention, and the bureau should confine itself solely to relieving that situation as far as possible.

Mayor Stewart favored confining the bureau to the question of bringing the unemployed and employer together, without raising the question of the rate of wages or organized or unorganized labor.

Considerable discussion arose over Alderman McNeill's motion to the effect that the board in control of the bureau should be composed of three members of the Council, a representative of labor and one other citizen. The alderman believed the Council should have a majority on the board in view of the fact that it was finding the money, and would be the largest employer of labor. Alderman Bell advocated a body composed of two Council members, two other gentlemen selected solely with a view to their representative character, and one woman, such non-Council members to be chosen solely because of their ability to give good service to the public as a whole and irrespective of any particular section.

Mayor Stewart declared he proposed to vote against Alderman McNeill's motion, on the sole grounds that previous experience had shown that the element conspicuous on the old bureau would result only in more trouble, and Alderman Porter, to Mr. Day's arguments in favor of a Trades and Labor Council representative on the committee, expressed the opinion that that organization's representatives on the old board had created trouble, with the result that some members of the old management committee of the bureau had, after one meeting, refused to attend another.

The suggestion of Alderman Dilworth that the bureau's work should be carried on by a Council committee composed of three was approved. This recommendation will come before the regular Council meeting on Monday night, when the personnel of the committee will be named. The suggestions advanced by Mr. Stevenson as to a guide to the new board, will be considered by this committee.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE

(Before Morrison, J.)

Foulger vs. Lewis and Lewis: Action for recission of a contract for the purchase and sale of four timber limits on Sechelt Inlet; the return of moneys paid by the plaintiff to the defendants in consideration of the sale of said limits; a reconveyance to the plaintiff of the said limits; damages for misrepresentation and special damages for Government fees paid to maintain the licenses, $1,444. Plaintiff is a farmer, residing at Duncan, and defendants are Seattle brokers. The claim is that in December, 1911, plaintiff purchased the four timber limits in question from the defendants for $50,000, part of which was paid by the conveyance of certain land in Alberta; that the defendants represented themselves as owners of the limits, but that a large portion of them was covered by prior licenses issued to other parties, there being actually available only one limit and a portion of another out of the four, and that these portions are inaccessible, so far as logging conditions are concerned. There is a specific allegation of fraud and misrepresentation. The defence admits of the sale, but denies any fraud or misrepresentation; that the plaintiff was aware of the nature and standing of the title to timber which could be acquired under British Columbia laws, and that defendants merely transferred such interests as they themselves held. Further, that plaintiff made independent investigation of the title and the quality and quantity of the timber, and relied upon such independent investigation.

The evidence of the parties has been partly heard and will be concluded today. Lennie and J. A. Clark, for the plaintiff; Bodwell, K. C., and Mayers, for defendants.

EXHAUSTION OF ENEMY

LONDON, May 18.—A dispatch to The London Morning Post from the North of France says:

"There are signs that the Germans have reached the limits of their available reinforcements. The extraordinarily heavy losses which they recently suffered (they are said to have a casualty list of 150,000 in connection with the last battle of Ypres alone) have upset all their plans for a renewed onslaught.

"Meanwhile, there is a tremendous artillery action in progress and there is no longer any doubt that the Allies are obtaining the mastery over the German gunners. As regards the French advance on Lens, there is reason to believe that General Joffre, with his accustomed level-headed caution, has been most conservative in his official statements of the advance claimed.

"The readjustment of the British line north of Ypres has proved of great advantage to the British and their Allies. It has given the British a much sounder base and has rendered any offensive movement by the Germans so costly to them that they have practically ceased to attempt any since.

"Notwithstanding the difficulties that the Tsar possesses, because the German right bank is considerably higher than the Franco-Belgian left bank, the river has been crossed at various points and the enemy's positions have been carried at the point of the bayonet. All along the line, in a word, the continuous blows dealt by the Allies are rapidly producing an effect now."

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Bank Clearings—The total of bank clearings for the week ending May 18 amounted to $1,491,874.

Meeting Postponed — The meeting called at the Alexandra Club for this evening to consider the restriction of the sale of liquor during the period of the war has been postponed until Wednesday, May 26, at the same place.

Mining Activity—That another copper mining company is to commence operations in British Columbia, erecting a plant to cost $3,000,000, was the statement made at Vancouver by Mr. E. A. Haggen, editor of the British Columbia Engineering and Mining Record, during the course of a luncheon to the American Club. There is also the prospect of the establishment of an electrolytic refinery.

Regular Train Service—The Hon. Thomas Taylor has been advised that arrangements are now being completed for inaugurating a regular train service on the Port Mann-Hope section of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway and that schedules will shortly be announced. Mr. T. R. McLeod, who has been appointed superintendent of the railway at the Coast, has assumed his new duties, making his headquarters at Port Mann. He was formerly in charge of the Halifax Southwestern Railway in Nova Scotia.

Touring Constituency—Mr. H. S. Clements, M. P. for Comox-Atlin, and Conservative candidate for the new riding of Comox-Alberni, is making a tour of the Lower Island. He is accompanied on the trip by Mr. J. H. Williamson, secretary of the B. C. Conservative Association, and Mr. Rand Gibbons. If opportunity offers addresses will be delivered at various points, the intention of Mr. Clements being to get thoroughly acquainted with the needs and requirements of the new Federal constituency.

Honors for Young Victorian.—Alderman Dilworth has received word of the success of his son, Ira, in the honor course in Arts at McGill University, Montreal, where the young Victorian took high standing among a large class. He took a two years' course in McGill College here, securing high honors, and then went to the parent University at Montreal, where he has been studying for the past two years. His success is a continuation of the excellent showing which Victoria students have invariably gained at that seat of learning.

Methodist Conference—A number of local Methodists left last night for New Westminster, where the seven-day conference will be held between representatives of the church in this Province. Among those leaving from here are Messrs. Arthur Lee, Hugh McDonald, H. J. Knott and George Bell, from the Metropolitan Church; Messrs. R. Baird and W. N. Mitchell, from the Centennial Church; Messrs. H. J. Knott and E. B. Jones, from the Fairfield Church; Mr. Joseph Patrick, from the James Bay Church; Mr. W. Beatty, from the Victoria West Church, and Messrs. Wright and Reeve Adam, from the Esquimalt Church. The conference begins today.

Market Day Today—With the semi-weekly market now an established fact and the great bulk of the public cognizant of the dates, a much better attendance of patrons is expected today than was the case last Wednesday. Then it was the first time that the market had been held on Wednesday and many persons accustomed to the old Friday market failed to remember that a change to a semi-weekly market on Wednesdays and Saturdays had been made. Producers found the semi-weekly market an improvement and predict that the public will find it of the greatest advantage. Today's market will be largely patronized by producers and a full line of all seasonable produce is assured.

Cow Breaks Record—All records made by Canadian cows of any breed or any age for the annual production of butter fat have been broken by a three-year-old Holstein cow, bred and owned by Mr. J. M. Steves, of Steveston, B.C., who is the senior Holstein breeder of the Province. Her yield amounted to no less than 938.93 pounds of fat, with 24,149.5 pounds of milk. But for the recent sensational record of the Holstein junior three-year-old Fenderne Holingen Fayne, which secured the world's championship with 1,116.5 pounds butter fat, the world's junior record three-year-old class would be led by this British Columbia cow. This Canadian champion already held in the Holstein register of merit records for butter fat production in seven and thirty days, and as a two-year-old stood third for yearly production in the Canadian record of performance with 664 pounds of butter fat.

Agriculturists Arrive—During the next few weeks the members of the various branches of the Department of Agriculture will spend much time in touring various parts of the Province for the purpose of holding meetings and examining the conditions in different sections. Mr. J. Forsyth Smith, Markets Commissioner, left last night for Washington, where he will spend two weeks in inspecting the orchards of the Wenatchee and the Yakima districts. In this way he will be able to get a good idea of how large size the Washington fruit crop will be this year and what marketing facilities exist. Mr. R. M. Winslow, horticulturist, and Mr. R. C. Abbott, Coast Markets Commissioner, left yesterday for Duncan and the Cowichan district. Mr. Harvey Thornber, assistant horticulturist, arrived yesterday from Kamloops and the Kootenay district, where he has spent the past week in examining the Government orchards there and superintending the planting of fruit trees. He reports that the crops appear to be in very good condition and the indications are that an unusually large harvest will be gathered this year.

W. A. OF COLUMBIA DIOCESE IN SESSION

Eleventh Annual Meeting Shows That Women Are Doing Great Work in Many Directions

The eleventh annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to Missions of the diocese of British Columbia was opened yesterday morning by a communion service in the cathedral. There was a large congregation and the clergy present were: the Venerable Archdeacon Scriven, Rev. H. T. Archbold, Rev. W. H. Dawe, Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick and Rev. W. T. Keeling. The Archdeacon was the celebrant and Rev. H. T. Archbold preached an earnest and helpful sermon.

After the service about 150 delegates from many parts of the diocese assembled in the schoolroom. With Miss Turner, the president, on the platform were the members of the executive, Mesdames Roper, Phipps, Hiscocks, Wollaston, Vincent, Norris, Gilbert, Cook, Hagrey, Murray, Tait, Walker, Andrews and Fowler.

Mrs. Phipps, in a kindly speech, welcomed the visiting delegates. Mrs. Laycock, of Sandwick, replied in an address which was much appreciated by the audience. The formal business of the morning's session was closed by an address delivered at noon by the Rev. G. H. Andrews.

At the afternoon session Miss Turner read an address, reviewing the work of the year, praising the members for the self-denying efforts they had made and urging them to perseverance. There never was so much need of missionary work as now, she said, and she believed that the part of women was most important. Alluding to the effect of the war upon women, the speaker said that God had touched the women all over the world, even the most thoughtless. He had filled them with a strong desire to minister to others. Many lives were greatly altered. Wonderfully noble and beautiful things were being done by our women.

The value of the services of Miss Roper among the Indian children, the good work being done by Miss Nixon and Miss Edwardes at Alert Bay and the need of more women missionaries were among the subjects spoken of in this very comprehensive address. Mrs. Gospel read a paper by Miss Edith Young, of Vancouver, criticising the school system of the Province for its lack of religious teaching and urging the women of the society to agitate for the introduction of such teaching in the schools. Miss Crease advised the appointment of a committee to ascertain what was being done and what steps should be taken to bring about a reform. A resolution, moved by Mrs. Gospel, to the effect that religious instruction should be introduced into the public schools of the Province was passed and Miss Crease, Mrs. Gospel and Mrs. Clarke were appointed a committee of inquiry. In the course of the discussion Mrs. Andrews and Mrs Clarke pointed out that the schools were opened with the Lord's Prayer and that the reading books contained passages from the Bible. The treasurer's report showed that $2,316.44 had been raised during the year and that there was a balance of $526.13 on hand after an expenditure of $3,329.73 for various missionary purposes. The balance at the beginning of the year was $1,539.42. Mrs. Wollaston, the treasurer, considered this very satisfactory considering the depression and the many calls upon members.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB

Address Delivered by Mrs. Young—Arrangements for Garden Party on May 24

The meeting of the Women's Canadian Club held yesterday afternoon was well attended. In her opening remarks Mrs. Jenkins impressed upon members the great things expected from the garden party at Lady McBride's on May 24. This was the first appeal made to the public by the club. The necessity for funds to purchase material for Red Cross work was sufficient excuse. Mrs. H. E. Young read an address on the life of Dr. Drummond, concluding with a poem by S. Weir Mitchell, which was listened to with great pleasure.

Miss Mamie McLaurin sang "Ah, 'Twas a Dream" very effectively, and Mrs. Douglas McConnan also gave a fine vocal solo. Mr. Rickaby delighted the audience with his recitations of "Le Vieux Temps" and "The Last Portage," from Drummond, and a humorous little poem of his own "What's the Use." A hearty vote of thanks was passed to all who had contributed to a most enjoyable entertainment.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

The special services last Sunday in connection with the celebration of the twenty-fourth anniversary of the consecration of St. Saviour's Church, Victoria West, were well attended, and liberal collections taken up. On Monday evening a crowded meeting filled the schoolroom at a church social in connection with the celebration. As a finale to the festival, many friends of the parish gathered under the presidency of the rector. Speeches full of reminiscence and good wishes for the future were given by the Rev. Dr. McRae and the Ven. Archdeacon Scriven. The different rectors of St. Saviour's had been men of outstanding gifts, and the tradition was well maintained in the present incumbent. Such was the testimony of Dr. MacRae, and the Archdeacon gave a vivid personal memory of the early days above the blacksmith's shop. From such small beginnings grew the present church.

The excellent programme was as follows:

Song, "Old Erin .... Mr. Youson
Piano solo ...... Mr. F. Douglas Macey
Recitation, "My Little Soldier" .... Cyril Russell
Violin solo .... Mr. James Cerkle
Song, "Dolly's Revenge" Miss Williams
Banjo trio, Messrs. Welsh and Neelands
Songs, a la Grossmith ...... Mr. Gard
Song, "Yues" .... Dr. W. E. Home, R.N.
Song, "The Songs My Mother Used to Sing" .... Miss Miller
Song, "The Lost Chord" .. Mis V. Evans
Song, "The Veteran's Song" Mr. Weight
Cornet solo .... Mr. Chas. Banks
God Save the King.

At the close Mr. John W. Lethaby voiced the thanks of all present to the performers, especially to Miss Ada Saunders, who filled the role of accompanist with her usual ability. He also expressed the appreciation of the church to the two speakers who had, by their presence, ensured the success of the social. Before separating, the ladies of the congregation served dainty refreshments, and a pleasant half hour of talk was spent.

YOUTHFUL ESSAYISTS WILL SECURE PRIZES

Mayor Stewart Will Distribute Honors Won by Scholars in Recent Competition Held by Manufacturers' Association.

Distribution of the prizes which scholars of the various schools of the city and neighboring municipalities won in the recent essay competition held under the auspices of the local branch of the B. C. Manufacturers' Association will take place this evening, in the assembly room of the Girls' Central School, commencing at 8:15 o'clock. Mayor Stewart has kindly consented to award the prizes, and addresses will be delivered by Mr. F. A. Paulins, on behalf of the Victoria and Island Development Association; Mr. H. B. Thomson, M.P.P., for the B.C. Manufacturers' Association, and Mr. William Blakemore, who will announce the terms of a new competition which, it is intended, will shortly be held. The Hon. T. W. Paterson, former Lieutenant-Governor, who was expected to be present, will be unable to attend. A large attendance of scholars, parents and teachers, is expected, and the general public is invited. Mr. George Jay, chairman of the board of school trustees, will preside.

The essay competition, which resulted in the submission of papers of such excellence that the judges found it a hard task to make their awards, was on the subject of "Why we should buy home manufactured products." It was open to scholars of the city public schools as well as to those attending the schools of the three neighboring municipalities. Gold, silver, and bronze medals will be given for the best three essays, and premiums also will be awarded to the best two essays from each school. In addition to these prizes handsome diplomas, donated by The Colonist Printing and Publishing Company, will be given to each successful scholar.

The medals for the best three essays were won by girls, the gold medal by Lillian Olga Clayton, of the Victoria West School; the silver by Winifred Borden, of the North Ward School, and the bronze by Osborne Jones, of the George Jay school. The judges, in their report, stated that they considered the competition had been of great benefit to the children in leading them to think and to write upon a practical subject which finds no place in the ordinary curriculum of the schools and in arousing a measure of public interest in the subject of local industries and in the work of the Victoria and Island Development Association and in the object of the Manufacturers' Association of British Columbia.

The winners in the individual school contest were as follows: North Ward School, Winifred Borden and Gertrude Maude Henson; Oak Bay School, C. Brock Whitney and Sidney D. Andros; Lampson Street School, P. J. Mulcahy and Duncan Fraser; George Jay School, Osborne Jones and Winifred MacGibbon; Sir James Douglas School, Gretha Klein and A. S. Webster; Girls' Central School, Emma Scott and Jetti Weisman; Strawberry Vale School, Phyllis Elliott and John Little; South Park School, Jack McNaught and Thomas McCabe; Royal Oak School, Marie Slingerland and Mabel E. Carruthers; McKenzie Avenue School, Miriam Houghton; Victoria West School, Lillian Olga Clayton and Harry Walker; Mount Tolmie School, Daisy O'Neill and Hilda Huddleston; Saanichton School, Lilith Bissett and Eva Walker.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR RED CROSS WORKERS

Superintendent of Work in Toronto Writes to Victoria Branch Giving Valuable Directions

The following letter has been received from Mrs. Plumptre, superintendent of red cross supplies in Toronto. It contains much useful and necessary information for Red Cross workers:

"Dear Mr. Williams: Victoria is indeed an energetic branch. I am most interested in the pamphlet that you have issued, more especially because it is exactly on the lines of one which I am forwarding to you. I compliment you very highly on the excellence of your pamphlet, and am especially glad to see that you are emphasizing the need of money as well as, or even more than, supplies.

"In reply to your other letters about the proportion of goods and money required. To take up this question first. It is very difficult for this office to fix any exact proportion between goods and money to be supplied, as local conditions alter cases very materially, but in the main we think that the best results have been secured where the proportion spent on goods is kept low and the cash contributions kept high. This has been the case in Toronto and it has worked admirably, producing an enormous amount even in proportion to Toronto's wealth of money and supplies.

"The other plan has been worked in another very large city in Canada, and has resulted in a proportionately far smaller amount both of money and supplies. At this time, especially, cash is necessary. Not all of this would be spent in England. In some cases at least we are able here to buy in large quantities in mills and factories. We have done this with such supplies as shirts, sweaters, socks, blankets, etc.

"As a general principle, I should always advise that articles in which there is a very little making, such for example as sheets and pillow slips, should be bought with cash, preferably in England, because freight is so heavy, but all articles which require a great deal of handling for a comparatively small outlay—goods such as cotton hospital shirts and flannel shirts, dressing gowns, etc., can be advantageously made up by local working parties.

"I should certainly say also that it pays to buy a cheap grade of cotton (I should think the 6c grade would be quite good enough) for making bandages, provided always that the bandages are rolled on a roller, and made according to directions given in our 'Suggestions.' Black bandages, especially if made out of old shooting, are simply useless, and had much better not be sent. Old sheets and table cloths should be used for other purposes as directed in the 'Suggestions for Work.' To buy bandages in England would cost the society a great deal more, but on the other hand we must have money to provide extra quantities in the emergencies in England.

"You are perfectly correct in stating that there is always a shortage of socks. Every appeal, public or private, which comes to hand repeats the same cry 'socks, always socks, and still more socks.'

"I hear that wool is scarce and dear in England. I should therefore advise you to get all the socks possible knitted if you can buy suitable yarn at 95c per lb. I consider this quite reasonable if the yarn is of good quality.

"Please do not let your ladies listen to any wild cat cries about socks with four or six inch of leg. For the Red Cross we need an immense supply of either hand knit or machine knit socks such as an ordinary man would wear out hunting, nor cashmere or not lumberman's socks.

"It would be quite in order to send some heather mixture socks to go to men discharged from the hospital going on furlough, and some in white wool to be worn by men with sore feet in the hospitals. Toes and heels can always be finished in white if the other color runs out.

"As you ask what things are most needed at the present time I should say, first, cash for drugs and anaesthetics, and special expenses, and all other things which nobody can make by hand. After that socks, shirts, surgical dressings, and either sheets and pillow slips or money to buy them.

The money sent to headquarters is administered by the executive committee of the Canadian Red Cross Society. We have made cash contributions to the amount of £20,000 to the British Red Cross Society, but all other cash that has gone forward has been for specific objects such as the equipment of Cliveden Hospital, the purchase of motor ambulances, and after the battle of Langemarck for the purchase of drugs, etc. needed urgently for the wounded.

I hope this letter will be of use to you in your work. I shall always be glad to furnish you with any information you may need. Yours truly

"(Sgd.) ADELAIDE M. PLUMPTRE
"Corresponding Secretary."

WEEK'S CAMPAIGN FOR CLEANLINESS OPENS

Commencing Today Victorians Urged to Attack All Forms of Dirt and Effect Systematic Civic House-Cleaning.

By a proclamation which Mayor Stewart issues this morning, all Victorians who have at heart the real interests of the city and a desire to show to the stranger who may come here that Victoria is possessed of civic virtues which number cleanliness among their number, are called upon to actively participate in the "Clean-up" campaign which commenced this morning and will continue for one week. All of the public bodies of the city are behind the movement, which, if the public lends its assistance, will result in a vast addition to the attractiveness of the city, from the standpoint of the tourist. Incidentally the campaign will tend to improve the city from the sanitary standpoint, and as a general civic house-cleaning will inaugurate a scheme which the promoters hope will become an annual event.

The method whereby the good work may be accomplished will appear sufficiently obvious to every householder or proprietor of a business premises, but the chief aim to be kept in mind is a general and determined onslaught upon dirt in all forms; a brightening up of all premises by an application of paint and a cleaning up of yards and hedges, gardens, etc. Vacant store premises are expected to be attended to by the owners or agents, and, in fact, a widespread effort to "dress up" is the request of the committee.

City Engineer Rust has made arrangements whereby the sanitary department of the city will assist in the campaign by removing loads of garbage and rubbish which owners may assemble as a result of their efforts. The garbage collection service will respond to calls, but householders are requested to destroy such materials as can conveniently be disposed of on the premises, and such rubbish as old lumber, stones, etc., will not be handled.

For the balance of the week citizens will be receiving frequent injunction through their grocers and other dealers whom they patronize to undertake the work, hand-bills having been supplied to all the merchants. On the receipt of each bill the recipient is urged to take another look at his premises in an effort to ascertain if he has not forgotten some item, attention to which will mean more beautiful surroundings for his own and neighboring premises.

A city and district committee has been formed, representative of all the leading public bodies of the city, to direct the campaign.

Householders who desire to dispose of inflammable rubbish by burning it may do so after securing a permit from Fire Chief Davis. Only in the congested portion of the city is burning of rubbish prohibited but should a number of business concerns desire to dispose of rubbish and notify the chief he will sanction some spot at which the burning may take place and, to assist in the good work, will have men from his department on hand to prevent a possible spread of the fire. In any manner in which he or his department may be of assistance the chief is desirous of helping.

ASKS FOR RESCISSION

Suit Instituted in Supreme Court for Cancellation of Agreement to Purchase Island Timber Limits

A lawsuit opened in the Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Morrison yesterday in which Mr. H. B. Fouiger is the plaintiff, and Messrs. C. D. and R. A. Lewis are the defendants. The former seeks the rescission of a contract entered into by him for the purchase of a number of timber limits situated on a tributary of Bechelt Inlet, West Coast of Vancouver Island, the price of which was to be $30,000. It is claimed for Mr. Fouiger that the defendants are not in a position to deliver title to the licenses which he was given to understand he was to receive. Yesterday morning evidence of Mr. Hoy, of the Department of Lands, was heard. The case will be continued this morning. Messrs. R. S. Lennie and J. S. Clark are representing the plaintiff, and Mr. E. V. Bodwell, K.C., and E. C. Mayers are acting for the defendants.

IMPROVING STOCK OF CANADIAN WEST

Live Stock Commissioner Engaged in Distribution of High-Grade Horses and Cattle Throughout Province.

Having just returned from the Mainland, Dr. S. F. Tolmie, Western representative of the Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, stated yesterday that conditions among the farmers and the stock raisers were exceedingly promising. He stated that the recent rains, which had been general throughout the Interior, had been most opportune, almost everywhere synchronising with the planting of corn and roots. The policy adopted by the department for the development of high-class stock, he thought, would prove of immense benefit to those interested. It would be particularly so to the settlers of comparatively sparsely populated districts. Under ordinary circumstances it would take these people years to make much progress in the raising of purebred stock, but with the assistance being accorded them, their problem was practically solved.

In pursuance of its usual policy the department at present, Dr. Tolmie asserted, was engaged in the distribution of a large number of thoroughbred bulls and some stallions. The chief breed represented by the horses was Clydesdale, while in cattle there were Shorthorns, Holsteins, Ayreshires, Polled Angus, Jerseys and Red Polls. It had been possible, he stated, to secure almost all these in British Columbia, and the animals selected were of the best quality. It had been necessary to import from other Provinces, however, to fill the demand for Polled Angus and Shorthorns.

BUILDING SILOS

Livestock Branch of Department of Agriculture Will Demonstrate Advantages of Using Silage

For the purpose of showing farmers throughout the Province the advantage of using silage for the Winter feeding of farm animals, the Livestock Branch of the Department of Agriculture will superintend the construction of silos in a number of agricultural centres of British Columbia during the next few weeks. The places that will be visited are Burton, Arrow Lakes, Revelstoke, Kelowna, Ladysmith, Summerland, Penticton, Salt Spring Island, Armstrong, Denaison Station and Ladner.

The purpose of this work is to introduce the silo to various districts of the Province where it may prove profitable, and to demonstrate to the farmers that a serviceable silo may be constructed at comparatively low cost. The use of silos in many parts of the continent has proved to be not only an admirable, but an indispensable factor to the modern farm for storing green food and fodder.

During the Fall of the year silo-filling demonstrations will be conducted at a number of points in British Columbia by a staff of the Livestock Branch for the purpose of illustrating the proper methods of filling.

WILL VISIT VICTORIA

Cincinnati Grocers, on Visit to Coast, Will Inspect Beauties of This City

This morning at 7:30 o'clock there will arrive in the city by special boat from Seattle 150 members of the Cincinnati Retail Grocers' Association, who have been visiting the Exposition at San Francisco and are on route to their homes in the East. This visit is one of the direct results of the publicity campaign which Commissioner Cuthbert, of the Victoria and Island Development Association, has been conducting during the past year with a view to attracting to this city a large portion of the tourist traffic which will visit the Pacific Coast this year. The attractions of Victoria were laid before each member of the Cincinnati association in personal letters written by the commissioner and in response assurances were received that on their visit to Seattle they would make a trip to Victoria.

The visitors will be welcomed at the boat by Commissioner Cuthbert and, after breakfast at the Empress Hotel, will be the guests of Mr. C. Solly, representative here of the Milwaukee line, on a motor tour of the city and environs. They will leave for Seattle on their special steamer at 10:30 o'clock.

This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock a meeting of the Victoria and Island Development Association will be held when, among other business to be dealt with, will be the suggestion of the president, Alderman G. A. Okell, who desires that the office be circulated among the members of the association and wishes to retire in favor of some other member. Several sub-committees to deal with various branches of the association's work, will be appointed, chief of which will be one to deal with the acquisition of permanent amusement features for the city.

OBITUARY NOTICES

The death occurred on Tuesday morning of a prominent local Japanese merchant in the person of Mr. Yaichiro Osawa, who for some time made his residence at 820 Fisgard Street. He was fifty-three years of age. He came to Victoria several years ago and for some time operated a merchandise establishment, but retired from active business a short time ago. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and interment will be made at Ross Bay Cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. Osawa.

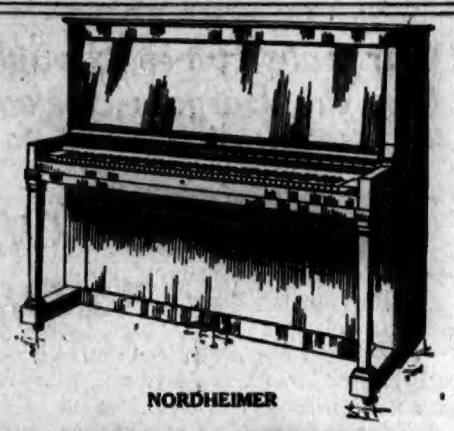

The death occurred yesterday at an early hour of Miss Margaret Midwood Brown at the age of thirty-eight years. She had been in this city for one year. The deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bragge Brown, of Mount Edward Apartments. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. J. H. Warnicker is to conduct the ceremonies. The services will be private, and it is requested that no flowers be sent. Interment will take place at Ross Bay Cemetery.

If I Should Die

If I should die, think only this of me:
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is forever England. There shall be
In that rich earth a richer dust concealed;
A dust whom England bore, shaped, made aware,
Gave, once, her flowers to love, her ways to roam.
A body of England's, breathing English air,
Washed by the rivers, blest by suns of home.
And think, this heart, all evil shed away,
A pulse in the eternal mind, no less,
Gives somewhere back the thoughts of England given;
Her sights and sounds; dreams happy as her day;
And laughter, learnt of friends; and gentleness,
In hearts at peace, under an English heaven. —Rupert Brooke.

A Victoria Nurse

In this sad time when Canadian and British hospitals are filled with wounded soldiers it is a consolation to know that our own nurses have gone to wait upon the men of the Canadian contingent. The nurses of this country have won a continental reputation for efficiency, strength and tenderness. Among these there are few, if any, more capable than those trained in our own city. There has been no lack of volunteers from Victoria, for many of our nurses have been eager to go to the front. That they have had no experience of the horrors of war has not caused them to hesitate, and the task of selection must have been a difficult one for the authorities.

Last Saturday Miss Ada Cookson left for Montreal, and will shortly sail from Halifax for England.

Miss Cookson is among the most proficient of Victoria nurses. Though a native of Chorlton-Cum-Hardy, near Manchester, Miss Cookson received her training in the Jubilee Hospital. She graduated in 1909, and was the gold medalist of her class. Since that time Nurse Cookson has had a large private practice. She has proved capable, kind and entirely self-forgetful in her personal work. In private she was a lovable girl, bright and cheerful, and has left behind her many warm friends. Her aged parents reside in Tofield, Alberta, being pioneers of the district, to which they came twenty years ago.

Miss Cookson's friends are confident that she will do her duty under any circumstances, and that the wounded men will find in her a wise, tender and efficient nurse.

A Friendly Notice

Many who are not members of his communion will be glad to read the following allusion to Bishop MacDonald, who is at present absent from Victoria. It appears in The Montreal Mail over the signature of "The Wanderer," who says in part:

"I first saw the Right Rev. Alexander MacDonald, D.D., who has just published a book on his travels, entitled 'Stray Leaves,' in Nova Scotia several years ago. He was at that time professor of philosophy in the University of St. Francis Xavier's and I was one of the students. I can recall him as always being in a hurry. He always rushed, he was always active, and a tireless worker. Possessing a keen metaphysical intellect, he was at once the dread and the idol of every student. His classes were always well attended, and were intellectual treats.

A descendant of the hardy Scottish pioneers who settled Cape Breton over a century ago, he possesses many of their characteristics—hardiness, shrewdness, kindly wit and simplicity of soul. He is an eminent Gaelic scholar, well versed in the folklore and history of his ancestors. His latest book gives a brief description of a visit to the Highlands of Scotland. It portrays the sentiments of a genuine Scot on returning to the land of his forefathers where every "gluinn" has its past, every "beinn" its history, every stream its romance, and every island a story of days gone by, where you feel the spirits of the past and shades of the Scottish heroes. Your feet tread the same soil, you breathe the same air, and there is a communion of spirit between you and the past: and you know that you are not a stranger, but their son, returned after years of wandering on foreign strands to the home of your fathers. Dr. MacDonald in his inimitable way describes this feeling, and to one of similar sentiments the effect produced cannot be described. Who would not love fair Alaba's 'Buinne,' 'Gleinns,' and 'Loche's'!"

The article goes on to speak of the reverend gentleman as a zealous bishop and a genial compatriot. During his stay in Victoria Bishop MacDonald has proved himself a public spirited citizen, ready to aid every good cause.

Work for the Wounded

Women both in Canada and in Great Britain are working for the wounded in many ways. It would be an impossible task to give an idea of the vast multitude who are engaged in Red Cross and in hospital work in every city and in most villages and districts throughout the Empire. Most of these women are sacrificing time and ease and, sometimes giving money they can ill spare to the cause. The world will never know what it owes these women. But there are others who are conspicuous for their leadership. Among these is Mrs. William Douglas, of London, Eng. She, with Miss Mary Burnham, Miss Gertrude Tate, Miss Jean Graham and a number of other ladies have procured a house in which they will receive convalescents on their discharge from the hospital. The home is in Dieppe and men on a short furlough will be received and made as comfortable as possible. It is hoped to make the place as homelike as possible. In connection there will be a refreshment, recreation and reading room with magazines and games. In addition the ladies propose to distribute refreshments and comforts to the wounded passing through the nearest railway station if the military authorities will permit. Madame Vandervelde, wife of the Belgian Minister of State, who has returned from Canada and the United States where she spoke with great eloquence in favor of her starving countrymen and women has gone into Red Cross work. She has taken charge of the hospital established by English Quakers in Belgium and will act as housekeeper. She has gone thither with a contingent of the Canadian Red Cross. Lord Methuen, whose three score and ten years prevented him from serving his country as an officer in the army has turned his country home in Wiltshire into a hospital and his daughter Hon. Christian Methuen is training at a London Hospital to take charge of it. Lady Methuen and her younger daughter are assisting at the hospital which is excellently equipped. Two or the three sons of the family are in the army.

The Women of Holland

Of the miseries of the women of Belgium the world has learned much, although few of us are capable of realizing the depths of their sufferings. Little has been said of the privations borne by the women of the sister kingdom, so ready at the beginning of the war to extend hospitality to tens of thousands of refugees.

Yet the women of this neutral country, compelled to be ready at a moment's notice to defend her borders suffer in many ways as the following from a correspondent of the Associated Press shows. At the beginning of May the writer says:

"The hardships of the mobilization of the Dutch army have fallen hard upon Dutch women. The men have it all their own way—they are fed, clothed, housed and receive medical attendance from the government and eight cents a day pocket money to boot. Besides, they are held to orderly lives, which is excellent for their health.

"With the women it is another story. A farmer's wife may have young children to care for; she still must do the Spring ploughing. She has done it. The shopkeepers' wives must keep their shops. When application is made for it, the wife of the soldier in the militia receives a gulden a day (40 cents), but even with this official assistance there are thousands of cases of hideous misery.

"With all of these the Royal National Relief Committee is occupied, and the generous among the Hollanders of wealth foot the bills.

"Some of the direst need is among those of good family in Holland, whose income has been small but regular—from old, established securities of companies whose business has been crippled by the war. There are no more dividends.

"A young woman law student in Amsterdam has started the work of relief for this class. The offices are in a building in Amsterdam, to enter which implies no errand of charity seeking. There those who come receive financial aid if they need it; legal help too, to assist them to save what may be from the wreckage of fallen fortunes; best of all, a sympathetic ear ready to hear the story and to comfort.

"The small shopkeeper, the barber, the blacksmith, middling prosperous in peace times, with a staff of regular customers will suffer longest. He cannot close his shop for nine months and more and find his trade waiting when he returns from the army. The wives of such men sell or pawn what little things they can spare rather than ask for relief. To their rescue the Queen of the Netherlands has called together a group of rich bankers of the larger cities of Holland. They assist the hard-pressed of small business to short-time loans on little or no interest, the good name of the shop and its keeper as security."

The Dutch women are brave, strong and patient as well as kind. We may hope that they may be spared the deeper sorrow that would follow from the invasion of their dearly loved country.

"OMAR, THE TENTMAKER"

Spectacular Stage Version of Rubaiyat at Royal Victoria for Two Nights This Week

Lovers of the Rubaiyat are legion, and competent critics have declared the following quatrain to be the most popular bit of poetry in the English language:

"A book of verse he, neath the bough,
A jug of wine, a loaf of bread—and thou
Beside me singing in the wilderness—
The wilderness were Paradise enow, I trow!"

This and many others of the most popular quatrains will be spoken by Guy Bates Post in the course of his interpretation of the role of "Omar, the Tentmaker," which comes to the Royal Victoria Theatre for a two days' engagement commencing Friday, May 21.

This attraction was the dramatic sensation of the past theatrical season in New York, and was universally pronounced to be the finest spectacular achievement for several seasons. The play is from the pen of the gifted Californian playwright, Richard Walton Tully, whose previous successes, "The Bird of Paradise" and "The Rose of the Rancho," are pleasurably remembered by all theatregoers.

In the title role Mr. Post has firmly established himself as one of the foremost dramatic artists of the American stage, and it is doubtful if a finer example of romantic histrionism has graced our stage since the passing of Richard Mansfield than Mr. Post's subtle and imposing performance of Omar Khayyam. The action of the play covers a period of nearly sixty years in the poet's life, progressing into the riper chasms of middle age and closing as a white-bearded philosopher. Throughout the play the love interest is constantly of paramount importance, although thrills abound in generous measure for those who are fond of quick and blood stirring action. Pictorially, the production is of commanding beauty, and unusually felicitous efforts have been made to reproduce the teeming and fascinating life of the Orient, both as expressed in huddled city streets and in remote garden retreats amid rose-depots and singing birds.

Washing Won't Rid Head of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

IMPRESSIVE PLAY AT PANTAGES THEATRE

"Conscience" Teaches Effective Lesson —Other Fine Features in Big Bill

Seldom has a playette with a moral been put on more impressively than "Conscience," the sketch which is attracting so much attention this week at the Pantages Theatre. The figure of Conscience is portrayed in a dignified manner by Rodney Ranous, and his clear enunciation and mellow voice help to make a part which could easily be made ridiculous, nothing less than noble. As a tabloid play it has an unmistakable lesson, which is presented so effectively, and withal so delicately, that it gains in point and directness.

The sketch is but one of six excellent acts which are being presented by Manager Rice this week. The headliner is "Richard the Great," the most intelligent monkey that ever lived.

Another fine feature of the bill is Winona Winter, the "cheer-up girl," in an entirely novel and refreshing performance.

Mrs. Coy, 1595 Rockland Avenue, will not receive tomorrow nor again this season.

The Hon. W. J. Bowser will leave on the midnight boat for Vancouver, intending to return to the capital on Friday morning.

Sliding Up and Down the Scale

"You don't realize how many different physical frames there are in the world until you study the selling of Semi-ready clothes," said Harry Fuller.

"From Semi-ready a man expects as perfectly fitting a garment as he can have made to measure. In fact, he soon learns to expect more.

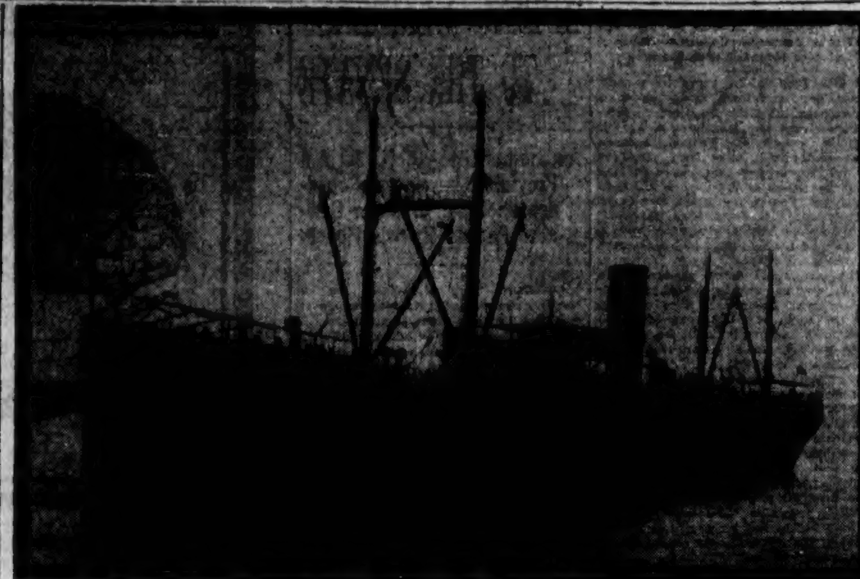

"That is where the science and the study of the physique type system proves itself. The designer of Semi-ready clothes knows his grading and patterns as closely as does the musician who learns the scales, chords and cadences, the sharp and flat, and how and when to use the soft and hard pedal.

"Semi-ready clothes are tailored on the physique type system, with seven distinct types, five variations from each type, and sizes 32 to 44 of each type. So that to fill an order complete from one cloth pattern one could have 420 suits, and not one be alike in size or made to fit the same man.

Besides the "average" type, which is known as "B type," there are the long-slim, the short-stout, the tall-stout, the medium stout, the average tall man and the slender man. These are all designated by a lettered ticket sewn under the coat lapel.

"All this careful grading of patterns and types does not add five cents to the cost of each suit," said Harry Fuller, of Mearns & Fuller—the only store in the city showing the genuine Semi-ready tailoring as originated twenty years ago.

SS. CROWN OF SEVILLE

Which has been substituted for the Arragon in the Harrison Direct service to the North Pacific. She is to go on berth at London and Liverpool for the June sailing to Victoria.

SEVILLE TO RETURN DIRECT TO COAST

Crown Freighter Ordered to Take June Sailing in Harrison-Direct Service to Victoria, Replacing Arragon.

Substituted for the steamship Crown of Arragon, the freighter Crown of Seville is under orders to take the June sailing from London, Glasgow and Liverpool for Victoria and North Pacific ports, via the Panama Canal, according to an announcement given out by Balfour, Guthrie & Co., general agents on this Coast for the Harrison-Direct Line.

Unless the present arrangements are cancelled in the meantime, the Crown of Seville will sail from London on or about June 10, and will clear from the Mersey about the middle of the month. Owing to the loss of several steamers and the charter of many others by the British Admiralty, the Harrison Line is experiencing some difficulty in placing its ships on the various routes controlled by this firm. Despite all drawbacks, however, the company has been maintaining its schedules, although the big fleet has had to be shuffled considerably to accomplish it.

The freighter Student, of the same line, is now reported to be twenty-one days out from Liverpool for this port. She is coming via the Panama Canal, and is expected to reach Victoria during the first week in June. The Student is a sister ship to the freighter Spectator which was here in April in the Harrison service.

Following the Student will be the steamer Merchant, which has been substituted for the Director. The Merchant is sailing from United Kingdom ports toward the latter part of this month, and will arrive here early in July. She recently completed a voyage from Pernambuco to Liverpool. Neither the Student or the Merchant have been on this Coast before in the Harrison service. The Crown of Seville arrived at London on May 2 from Victoria.

The Glory of the Seas was formerly one of the fastest clippers plying on the Pacific and has many fast runs to her credit.

DUE FROM LIVERPOOL

Blue Funnel Steamer Calchas Will Berth Here Tomorrow Forenoon With General Cargo

Having sailed from San Francisco at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, the Blue Funnel Line steamer Calchas, Captain Jones, operating in the Holt service from Liverpool via the Panama Canal, is due to arrive here tomorrow forenoon. She has a few hundred tons of United Kingdom cargo to discharge here, and after unloading will take on a consignment of box shooks for the outward trip.

The freighter Astyanax, of the same fleet, previously reported at Falmouth from Victoria, arrived at London on Monday.

TACOMA IS DELAYED

Inbound "Maru" Reports Arrival From the Far East on Saturday

Messrs. R. P. Rithet & Co., agents here for the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, were yesterday advised by radiogram from seaward that the inbound Japanese liner Tacoma Maru, Captain Hamada, will not reach port until Saturday. The Tacoma Maru was scheduled to make port on Friday, but met with delay, probably owing to adverse weather.

The liner has 23 passengers and about 1,000 tons of Oriental cargo for Victoria and Vancouver.

The liner Panama Maru, of the same line, sailed from Yokohama on May 24, and is due here on May 28.

RECORD ESTABLISHED FOR PANAMA TRAFFIC

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Record-breaking cargoes passing through the Panama Canal in March, according to War Department statisticians, would have filled approximately 1,800 freight trains of twenty cars each.

These trains, it is estimated, would have stretched 375 miles in length, or filled five parallel tracks from Panama to Colon.

Had this freight been transported across the isthmus in freight trains, it would have required a train every forty-eight minutes, or fifty-eight trains a day.

The cargo handled in March through the canal aggregated 635,057 tons.

TAMBA MARU SAILS WITH CAPACITY LOAD

N. Y. K. Liner Puts to Sea Right on Schedule for Ports in the Far East

Carrying over 7,000 tons of cargo and a good list of passengers, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Tamba Maru sailed at 5:25 o'clock last evening on her outward voyage to the Far East.

Enormous freights are now moving across the Pacific and the Tamba Maru carried her full share, every cubic foot of space in her holds being taken up. The bulk of the cargo was shipped at Seattle and Tacoma.

The Tamba Maru reached here from Seattle at 4:15 p.m., and after embarking a number of steerage passengers and small shipments of freight, put direct to sea.

Word has been received here that the Harrison Line steamer Student, which is the next vessel of the fleet to arrive here from the United Kingdom, broke her passage at the island of Trinidad to load sugar cargo for North Pacific ports. For Sallow, Wrinkled Freckled, Pimpled Skin

If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If bothered with wrinkles or crow's feet, a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel will prove remarkably effective. [illegible]

DISTANCES SAVED BY PANAMA CANAL

Following List of Interesting Figures Show How Victoria and Other Ports Benefit by Completion of Waterway.

From the Atlantic side of the Isthmus of Panama, Colon, to Balboa, on the Pacific side, the distance by water around South America is 10,500 nautical miles. Through the canal between these points the distance is less than 44 miles. The difference in length of these routes, 10,456 miles, represents the maximum distance that can be saved to a vessel by use of the big ditch.

This maximum is more interesting geographically than commercially, because vessels bound for the Pacific coast by way of the Straits of Magellan would not skirt the entire Atlantic coast of South America, but would strike across the Carribbean, if from the United States, or the central Atlantic, if from Europe, and proceed by the most direct route consistent with commercial advantage.

What counts in the commercial value of the canal is not the distance that could be saved, but the distances that are saved by vessels substituting the canal route for the earlier around-the-continent route in regular trade.

Routes Compared

Following are some of the savings on great trade routes between important areas:

New York, for instance, is nearer to Victoria, through the use of the canal, by 8,616 nautical miles.

Some of the heaviest traffic through the canal is between the North Pacific coast and Europe.

The canal makes Victoria nearer to Liverpool by 6,409 miles, against the Magellan route.

The distance between Victoria and Gibraltar, or the mouth of the Mediterranean, has been reduced from 13,314 miles to 8,364 miles, a saving of 5,693 miles of the former distance. From Victoria to Buenos Ayres, via Valparaiso and Magellan, is approximately 5,353 miles, which is shorter than the route through the canal, by which the distance is 9,684 miles. To Rio de Janeiro, the distance via Magellan is 9,352 miles; by the canal, 8,628 miles.

To Pernambuco, on the eastern promontory of South America, the distance via Magellan is 10,491 miles; via the canal, 7,459 miles. To Para, the distances via Magellan and via the canal are 11,595 and 6,285 miles respectively. From Victoria to Freetown, on the west coast of Africa, the distance by the most practicable former route, using the Straits of Magellan, is 12,128 miles. Through the canal, and by way of the Island of Barbados, the distance is 8,020 miles.

With reference to the trade between the Atlantic coast and the west coast of South America, New York is nearer to Valparaiso by 3,717 miles by virtue of the canal; to Iquique, one of the great nitrate ports, by 4,139 miles; and to Guayaquil, by 7,405 miles.

As to the Far East, New York is nearer to Yokohama by 3,76 8 miles than nearer to Yokohama by 3,768 miles than the latter route is eighteen miles shorter than the Panama route for vessels plying between New York and Hongkong. New York is forty-one miles nearer Manila by Panama than by Suez, and 3,932 miles nearer Sydney by Panama.

BIG LUMBER ORDER FOR GOVERNMENT

Department of Railways and Canals Places Contract in B. C. for 1,500,000 Feet for Port Nelson Terminals.

What is considered to be the initial shipment of a big order for British Columbia lumber to be utilized for Government work in connection with the construction of the Hudson's Bay railway terminals at Port Nelson, has just been placed by the Dominion Department of Railways and Canals. According to a dispatch from Halifax, the British steamer Durley Chine, 1,157 net tons, Captain Davies, left the Nova Scotian port early this month, bound for the Fraser River to load a cargo of 1,500,000 feet of lumber for the Hudson's Bay port. The Durley Chine is coming out to this Coast via the Panama Canal and is scheduled to arrive early in June.

It cannot be ascertained whether the freighter is making her way to this Coast in ballast, or is bringing cargo. There is a possibility that she may have aboard a cargo of steel, as she was recently reported at Cape Breton ports, from where large shipments of steel rails have been sent to British Columbia in the past.

The big lumber shipment to be loaded by the Durley Chine out here will consist almost wholly of fir and will be made up of bridge material, railway ties and heavy timbers. The Dominion Government is expending large appropriations on the new railway and steamer terminals to be built at Port Nelson, which is the terminus of the Hudson's Bay Line. Many thousand feet of timber will be required for this great undertaking, and the fact that the first large order has been given to a British Columbia concern, indicates that further orders of a similar character will be placed on this side of the continent in the near future.

As the Hudson's Bay is open for deep-sea traffic during the Summer months, it is probable that the cargo to be taken to the Atlantic side by the Durley Chine will be delivered direct to its ultimate destination, instead of being transhipped at Montreal.

CREW OF BARKENTINE BAILED WITH BUCKETS

Complement of Power-Craft Archer Were in Sorry Plight When Picked Up Off Arguello by Yucatan.

The big power barkentine Archer, which for several years past has been a familiar craft plying between the Vancouver Island mines to San Francisco, was the victim of an unfortunate experience on her first offshore voyage since she was fitted with power. As reported early this month the Archer was picked up off Point Arguello in distress by the steamer Yucatan and towed to San Pedro. The Archer was hit by a giant comber when heading into a strong gale, and besides sustaining extensive damage lost her cook overboard. All her lifeboats were carried away and the engine-room hatch was stove in, the rush of water flooding the after hold.

With the poop deck awash the crew bailed with buckets continually until the vessel was towed to safety, the pumps being out of service. Apparently, it was a narrow shave for the Archer, and but for the timely arrival of the Yucatan, she would undoubtedly have foundered, as a heavy sea was running, and the craft was in sore distress.

The Archer sailed from Roche Harbor on April 24 with cargo for New York, via the Panama route. She was under the command of Captain Poindexter, who was with the vessel when engaged in this trade.

She was chartered for the trip to New York owing to the scarcity of tonnage on the Pacific coast.

Just Apply This Paste and the Hairs Will Vanish

(Boudoir Secrets)

The judicious use of a delatone paste insures any woman a clear, hairless skin. To prepare the paste, mix a little of the powdered delatone with some water, then apply to the objectionable hairs for 2 or 3 minutes. When the paste is removed, and the skin washed, every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain attends the use of the delatone and it will not mar the most sensitive skin, but to insure results, see that you get real delatone.

OBJECT TO "SKIPPER"

Master Mariners Claim to Have Good Reason to Be Offended at Term

The council of the Mercantile Marine Service Association utter a word in deprecation of the continued and extending use in the press of the word "skipper" as applied to the masters in charge of merchant ships. The term "skipper," it is remarked, is quite rightly applied to persons in charge of coasters and fishing vessels, but the "master mariner" has good reason to be annoyed, offended and disgusted by the application of the low Dutch "schipper" to the rank he holds by government sanction.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Hungry Unemployed

Sir,—For months this important question has been knocked about from one authority to no authority.

During the administration of Dr. Miller some good was done on limited means. As I understand, the labor element put in its oar, made unreasonable demands for top wages in a time of stress; not doing any good and preventing others doing so. In a time like the present no one, or body of men, have the right to make demands which they themselves will not shoulder, in demanding top wages.

Let the Mayor and Aldermen in their wisdom and knowledge of our resources shake themselves free of outside unreasonable influence, regardless of gaining or losing votes. Employ as many as they can at such wages as the city can afford, not being afraid to offer a hungry man one dollar and a half.

Let some of the proposed paving work be suspended for a time—better go through mud than go hungry.

W. J. MACDONALD.

P.S.—Since writing the foregoing, it has been suggested that soup kitchens should be opened. Capable women would be necessary to begin and carry on the undertaking. I should think we could easily reckon on one thousand persons who would contribute one dollar monthly to such a necessary undertaking; some persons might give more. I would suggest that the Salvation Army could conduct a charity of this kind.

W. J. M.

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood, and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by D. E. Campbell, Prescription Store, and other good druggists everywhere, and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution.—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.

ARE REPULSED WITH HEAVY LOSS

German Offensive in Shavli Region Beaten Back—Russians Gain Successes on West Niemen.

PETROGRAD, May 17 (via London, May 18, delayed in transmission).—The following official communication was issued today:

"While the region east of Windau and Dubuyse is now free of the enemy, the Germans who attacked several days ago and assumed the offensive at Shavli, were repulsed on Friday with heavy loss.

"On the West Niemen on Saturday the Russians gained a series of successes.

"On Friday and Saturday fighting began on the San in the region of Lashkow and Jarisla.

"On the Pruth Friday, the Russians continued their successes, reaching several points of the road between Delatyn and Kolomea."

Austrian Report

VIENNA (via London), May 18.—A further Austrian advance in Galicia has been announced in an official statement issued here today. The Austrians have captured Drohobycz, in Central Galicia, about forty miles south of Lemberg, and also 500 men and eight machine guns.

SECOND DIVISION LANDS

Now Stationed at Shorncliffe and Will Be Given Practice at Targets—Fine Body of Men

OTTAWA, May 18.—The Military Department announced last night that the second Canadian division has landed safely in England and has gone to Shorncliffe, where it will be temporarily quartered before taking its place with the first division.

The second contingent, says General Hughes, in all but rifle practice is fully up to the standard of the first and is a magnificent body of men. The contingent will practice at the rifle ranges during its stay in England.

STREET CAR STRIKE

Drivers and Conductors of London County System Insist on Permanent Increase in Pay

LONDON, May 18.—With the exception of an occasional car, London is today without a street car service. Virtually all the drivers and conductors of the London County Municipal Street Railway system went out on strike, having taken a pledge not to return to work until a permanent increase in pay, and not merely a war bonus, is granted.

While London is not so dependent on street cars as are many other large cities in the United Kingdom, the inconvenience is great, especially in the morning and evening, as the cars to a large extent serve the working class districts.

DREDGE CAUGHT IN GALE

One Man Drowned, Another Injured and Much Damage Done at Toronto Harbor Works

TORONTO, May 18.—One man was drowned, another seriously injured, and fourteen thousand dollars damages done, when the Canadian Stewart Company's dredge Cyclone, the world's biggest dredge, was caught in a southeast gale off Fisherman's Island, Toronto, yesterday.

George Rice, aged 42, of 93 Sydenham Street, was swept from the dredge by a huge wave. Oscar Peterson, 24 Robinson Street, was thrown into the stokehold. Peterson is in a hospital suffering from a fractured ankle and an injured back.

The damage consists of the loss of a sixty-foot scow, which was loaded with coal, a derrick scow, which is pounding to pieces, and 500 feet of unanchored pontoons which were carrying iron pipe, and which are now adrift in the lake.

SHORTENS MILK SUPPLY

Montreal Is Affected by Great Rise in Price of Cheese, Caused by Demand at War Front

MONTREAL, May 18.—The far-reaching effects of the war may be brought home to the people of Montreal in a curious and intimate way, as recent developments are likely to have the effect of seriously decreasing the supply of milk.

Yesterday, on the cheese board at Cornwall, cheese reached the unprecedentedly high figure of 18 7-8 cents per pound. The rise is attributed to the heavy buying on behalf of the British Government, which finds that cheese is an especially valuable item of food for the men in the trenches.

With cheese selling at this price the milk producer is finding it to his advantage to take his milk to the cheese factory rather than to ship it to the city. The result ultimately will be that the ever-increasing demand of the city will conflict with the decreasing supply from the country.

DR. DERNBURG'S CASE

His Asking for Safe Conduct From Allies Not in Harmony With His Recent Boasting

LONDON, May 18.—The Daily News, referring editorially to Dr. Dernburg's apparent anxiety to leave the United States and return to Germany, says:

"Either he thinks his work is finished or thinks it is a definite failure. The real test is whether in American politics German-Americans will put Germany before other issues and causes. Dr. Dernburg's sudden distaste for America suggests that he has no doubt which way the Germans will move.

"It is amusing to find that Dr. Dernburg would like safe conduct from the Allied Governments. He and all the German propagandists have been proclaiming that the British fleet has been driven to cover in harbors and that the British command of the sea is as dead as the dodo. Now he confesses that he cannot cross the seas without British safe conduct. Perhaps, whether he gets it or not, he will stop this particular form of bellicose."

Irish Division Leaves

LONDON, May 18.—The 10th Irish Division, the first division of Irish troops, has been completed and has left for the front.

OUTBREAK IN TRIESTE

Crowd Composed Chiefly of Women Attacks Palace of Governor—Many Killed or Wounded by Gendarmes

ROME, May 18.—A revolution has broken out at Trieste, according to a message to the Idea Nazionale, telegraphed from the frontier. A crowd, composed chiefly of women, because most of the men have been called to the colors, invaded the square which faces the palace of the governor, Baron Friesacki. The women cried "Death to Francis Joseph; down with Austria," burned an Austrian flag together with a portrait of the emperor, and attempted to attack the palace.

The governor ordered gendarmes to charge, and the women retired, fighting stubbornly. Lampposts were torn up and the signs of tobacco stores which bore the Austrian coat of arms because their business is a government monopoly, were destroyed.

The Idea Nazionale dispatch states that forty-seven women were killed and over 300 wounded.

Dispatches from Triest to The Idea Nazionale state that the number killed in the rioting on Sunday was about fifty, including several aged men. The Austrian authorities had three cannon trained on the town from the height of Opicina, and also threatened to have the city bombarded by warships. A renewal of the revolutionary outbreak has been made impossible because strong forces of troops occupy the city. There have been explosions of powder magazines and attempts to pillage gunsmith shops.

PEOPLE ARE RESPONSIBLE

Sir George Foster Declares That Without Graft in Private Life There Would Be None in Public

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 18.—Sir Geo. E. Foster delivered an address upon "Patriotism" in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Saturday night under the auspices of the Ministerial Association.

Dealing with the charges of graft in connection with army supplies, Sir George said:

"The public life of this country is just as good as the people make it. I know that, for I have been in public life for thirty years. If you want to get rid of graft in public life you will have to get rid of it in your private life. If there were no private graft there would be no public graft. If I had all the people of Canada here I would throw that into their faces and ask them to look into it and see if it is not exactly right."

In closing Sir George said he felt that great benefit had resulted already from the war, in the consolidation of the British Empire.

"PEACE IN EUROPE"

Swiss Society Outlines Proposals It Would Like to See Go Into Effect

BASLE, Switzerland, May 18.—The Swiss Peace Society, at its annual meeting today, adopted the following resolution which it was declared should be considered when the time comes to form a conclusion of peace in Europe:

"First, the avoidance of any annexation or territorial changes which are in opposition to the interests and wishes of a population. A guarantee of religious liberty, free speech and equality before the law for the minority.

"Second, the creation of a permanent organization, in which all European states shall be equally represented for the purpose of safeguarding the order, peace and safety of our portion of the earth.

"Third, the development of an international law organization by continual league conferences."

French Success in Africa

PARIS, May 18.—A French column commanded by Colonel Mayer occupied on May 11 the post of Esoka, in the German colony of Kamerun, according to a telegram received here today from the Governor-General of French West Africa. The French losses, the message adds, were slight, while those of the Germans were heavy.

Italy Stops Exportation

PARIS, May 18.—Italy has stopped selling, exporting and delivering on contracts already signed for export, and is now buying heavily coal, crude oil, gasoline, cereals and flour. Roumania is not buying and has not bought anything of importance since the war began, although she made many inquiries three or four months ago.

Submarines for Britain

BOSTON, May 18.—Ten submarines which the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation is constructing at Quincy for the British Government will be launched early next month, within five months of the time the keels were laid, it was learned today. The trial trips will follow soon after and the boats can be ready for commission by July 1, although they are not to be delivered until after the war.

ADDING MEMBERS TO THE SENATE

Amendment to B. N. A. Act Providing Increased Representation for Western Canada Passes British House.

LONDON, May 18.—The British North America Act, 1876-1912, which is designed to amend the original constitution of Canada by an addition of nine members to the Senate representing the Western Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, was through all its stages in the British House of Commons tonight and was sent up to the House of Lords.

In moving the second reading of the Act, the Rt. Hon. Lewis Harcourt, Colonial Secretary, stated that the bill came up to the Imperial Parliament with the unanimous approval of all parties in Canada. He expressed a hope that it might receive royal assent before the Whitsuntide recess. The present strengthening of senatorial representation, he said, was due to the great development of industry and in the position in the Western Provinces since the act of 1867.

Appointments Gazetted

OTTAWA, May 18.—The appointment of Mr. J. G. H. Bergeron, a former member for Beauharnois and Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons, as postmaster at Montreal has been formally gazetted. Another appointment gazetted is that of Justice Ritchie Pulsne, judge of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court, to be judge of equity, succeeding Hon. Wallace Graham, who has become chief justice of Nova Scotia.

Another German Atrocity

LONDON, May 18.—Reuter's Petrograd correspondent sends the following official note issued in the Russian capital Sunday: "Prince Kurakine, the special Red Cross envoy at the front, telegraphs that after the German artillery had bombarded a station where our wounded were lying, German cavalry finished off the wounded with their carbine butts, and, after spraying petroleum and benzine about, set fire to the station, which was burned down with the men inside."

GERMAN DISCIPLINE INSPIRED BY FEAR

So Afraid Are German Privates of Their Officers That They Do Not Dare to Voice Grievances

"Letters received by the German soldiers from their relatives at home are increasingly pessimistic," writes a correspondent to The London Daily Telegraph, "and great efforts are being made to impress the civil population with the necessity of never referring to the food question when writing to men at the front. The general state of mind prevailing in the enemy's ranks, and the conditions of life are hard for us to realize.

"The discipline is principally that of fear, the men being in positive terror of their officers, who behave with a kind of studied truculence more befitting slave-drivers than leaders of men. This is borne out by the use of the cat-o'-nine-tails, which is well established, one of these implements having been captured by us near Neuve Chapelle. An actual example of such conduct was given by one prisoner which is most enlightening. A party of some twenty men were engaged in digging trenches when the subaltern in charge suddenly produced a revolver, and declared that he would blow out the brains of the first idle man whom he saw.

"This incident may not be typical, but that it should be possible at all is eloquent of German methods. Such is the fear of the officers and the atmosphere of general mistrust that the men do not even speak to one another of their grievances, for fear that their complaints should reach the ears of their seniors. Of the outward forms and restraints of discipline there is no relaxation even in the trenches.

"When an officer passes the men must spring to attention, and must remain with shouldered arms, without moving a muscle, perhaps for a quarter of an hour, while the officer in question is near them. When they are relieved from the trenches every spare moment is devoted to drilling and training. The slightest fault is punished with extreme severity, the offenders often being tied to a tree for hours together.

"It cannot be denied that these methods appear to suit the German temperament, though their degrading effect is shown by the fact that the longer a man is submitted to them the more brutal does he become. The acts of savagery which have been noted have in most cases been perpetrated by men of the active army or the older men of the Landwehr and Landsturm, who have been trained in the regular army. Indeed, there is a marked difference between the behavior of these troops and that of those who have been recruited since the war. It has been stated by one prisoner of intelligence and education that the Bavarians, being less civilized, less refined, and less intellectual than the Prussians, would display greater powers of resistance.

"Signs of the evident gullibility of the rank and file have been referred to, but as described by an educated German soldier it almost seems incredible. Those fighting on the Russian frontier are encouraged with stories of victories in the West, while those fighting in the West are similarly supplied with tales of triumphs in the East. Falsehoods, however clumsy, are swallowed with avidity. A town may be announced as having been captured time after time—each occasion being within a few weeks of the last—yet the strangeness of the recurrence of the event will not occur to those hearing it."

BRITISH LOSSES

Many Battalions Have Been Deprived of Almost All Their Men—No "System of Concealment"

A worthy Lord, writes a correspondent to a Scottish exchange, has made very pointed remarks concerning British casualty lists, strictures which might at first glance be construed seriously. Now, it is beyond question, that the casualty lists, as far as relating to the rank and file, are both considerably behind time and chronologically erratic; but it may well be that these shortcomings are unavoidable. The losses of a stiffly contested battle running into four figures cannot readily be disposed of in one list, and, even if they could, it might serve no good purpose to do so, while a casualty abstract, in the absence of names, would only add unnecessarily to the suspense. As a matter of fact, the casualties sent to press agencies in each twenty-four hours seldom or never relates to the returns of any one day, but seem to be a sort of judicious spraying out of losses partially covering a number of days. If grievance there does exist in the space of time intervening between an action and the announcement of the losses sustained, for as many as six and seven weeks divide the two, though of late the arrears seem to have been overtaken and the former delay considerably reduced. But, for anyone whose word carries weight, to asseverate that the newspapers "were not giving full lists of the losses," and that the military authorities practised "a system of concealment," is both unkind and unfair.

It is the casualty lists that tell us the straightest tale in this war, a plain, unvarnished, yet eloquent tale, in a dumb pathetic sort of way they lift aside the curtain on life and death encounters, with none of the stage effects, but with infinitely more of realism that is possible to the scribe writing from hearsay many miles from the battle front. There is not a regimental district in the British Isles which had not felt its clammy hand; but, naturally, the touch is light in places, and a heavy and obliterating pressure in others. Some battalions have been stricken unto death, and well-nigh wiped off, so far as their original strength is concerned. Such was the fate of the 1st Battalion of the Gordons in their first battle essay, only a few units of eight companies filtering back to friendly lines. But, like a king, a "regiment is dead, long live the regiment!"

There are in the United States more than 1,000 street railway systems, with 45,000 miles of trackage, 300,000 officers and employes and 91,000 cars. The capitalization of the companies was, in 1912, $2,945,299,000.

A Tale of Two Widows

One receives each month a cheque for $100 from The Imperial Life. She lives comfortably in her own home, free from worry or anxiety over money matters.

Her husband, when alive, invested his savings in Imperial monthly income assurance, adding an extra policy every time he felt he could save another dollar a week.

The other woman is a janitress in a down-town office building. Her husband earned just as much as the first man. But he speculated with his savings, and at his death left his widow penniless—in fact, with family debts to pay.

Now what about your widow? Will she be the respected and welcome guest of your present neighbours and acquaintances? Or will she be forced to join the ranks of poorly paid female wage-earners? There's only one answer—if you care.

Write for our booklet "That Home of yours." It's free.

INTERNATIONAL GOLF WON BY B. C. LADIES

Playing Against Seattle and Tacoma, Eleven Games to Eight Won by Victoria and Vancouver.

Ladies of Victoria, Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma battled for international golf honors at the Oak Bay links yesterday afternoon. The conditions could not have been improved upon, the weather being clear and fine, the course in the best of condition, and the representatives of the four neighboring cities in good form. The result was a victory for the two Canadian centres over the Seattle-Tacoma team by a score of 11 to 8 games. It was the fifth international competition for a trophy offered by Mr. H. C. Henry, of Seattle, and the outcome means that the Victoria-Vancouver combination now has tied with its rivals, each side having been triumphant in two instances while in the other cases the honors were halved. The deciding contest has been arranged to take place in the Fall in Seattle, providing the war is over then. If not, it probably will be postponed until next Spring.

While the golf was so uniformly first class that it is difficult to pick any particular game for special attention, probably that in which the principals were Mrs. Hutchinson, of Victoria, and Mrs. Wilson, of Seattle, was the feature. The local player went out in 37, making the 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 10th in 3 each, and the 9th in 4, being 19 for the 6 consecutive holes, which would have been a wonderful performance for the best man player. She was 6 up at the end of 9 holes. In the face of this playing Mrs. Wilson held her poise remarkably and was able to do so well in coming home that she was beaten by 1 up only.

The detailed scores follow:

Miss V. Pooley, Victoria, beat Miss Agnes Ford, of Seattle, 5 and 4.
Mrs. Ricardo, Victoria, beat Mrs. Hilton, Seattle, 3 and 2.
Miss Phepoe, Vancouver, beat Mrs. W. Jones, Tacoma, 3 and 2.
Mrs. Paterson, Victoria, beat Mrs. Heller, Tacoma, 5 and 3.
Mrs. Hutchinson, Victoria, beat Mrs. Wilson, Seattle, 1 up.
Mrs. Edwards, Seattle, beat Mrs. Gellatly, Vancouver, 3 and 1.
Mrs. Wolff, Seattle, beat Miss Beckett, Vancouver, 5 and 4.
Mrs. Dempsey, Seattle, beat Mrs. Bird, Victoria, 2 and 1.
Mrs. Carr, Vancouver, beat Miss Collins, Seattle, 3 and 2.
Mrs. Macgill, Seattle, beat Miss Mara, Victoria, 1 up.
Miss Waghorn, Vancouver, halved with Mrs. Crosscup, Tacoma.
Mrs. Hulskamps, Seattle, beat Miss Lawson, Victoria, 3 and 1.
Mrs. Tweedale, Vancouver, beat Mrs. Blake, Seattle, 5 and 4.
Mrs. Kelleher, Seattle, beat Miss Butchart, Victoria, 2 and 1.
Mrs. Marpole, Vancouver, beat Mrs. Pigott, Tacoma, 1 up.
Miss Peters, Seattle, beat Mrs. Kirk, Victoria, 2 up.
Mrs. Archer Martin, Victoria, beat Miss Waterhouse, Seattle, 3 and 2.
Miss Sayward, Victoria, beat Mrs. Foster, Tacoma, 5 and 3.
Miss Young, Victoria, beat Mrs. Hulbert, Tacoma, 1 up.
Mrs. Lewis, Tacoma, beat Miss G. Pitts, Victoria, 2 up.

The competition started yesterday morning, the Vancouver, Seattle and Tacoma players having arrived on Monday. They spent part of the latter day familiarizing themselves with the course. An invitation was extended them to visit the Colwood golf links, but it was declined, the majority finding it inconvenient to remain here longer than was necessary for the international event.

BASEBALL AMATEURS COME INTO UNION

B. C. A. A. U. Recognizes Victoria Amateur Baseball Association as Only Official Body Controlling the Game.

Mr. J. I. Keary, of New Westminster, Secretary of the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union has issued notices calling a meeting of the Provincial executive to be held at the Camosun Club, Victoria, on June 1, and as there will be a large order paper before the delegates the meeting is scheduled to commence at five o'clock.

At Monday's meeting of the local board a general note of warning was issued to amateur baseballers not to stray from the path of amateurism if they wished to play ball in Victoria; the Victoria Amateur Baseball Association is now properly organised, and will be recognised by the amateur union as the only official body controlling baseball in the city, and no independent teams will be permitted to play games with any of the regular teams of the association. Mr. Spence, secretary of the baseball association announced that already fourteen teams had joined up and the association would this season govern all senior, intermediate, junior and midget grades.

The city teams are all anxious to play games with up-island teams at Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Duncan and other centres, and to encourage such inter-city games the amateur union is endeavoring to bring these country teams in line and have them affiliated, but until they do so become affiliated, Mr. George Nicholson, president of the amateur union, warns all city ball teams not to arrange any games outside Victoria. The members of the baseball deputation, which attended the union meeting, offered every assistance in getting these Island teams to join the union and assured the local board that no games would be arranged till that object was attained.

The amateur union recommended five ball players for reinstatement, but made it very clear that these particular cases were only recommended on account of the very satisfactory start amateur baseball had made this season and the desire of the union to encourage it in every way. The five players concerned had all played with unregistered teams, but each individually signed a sworn statement to the effect that he had never received a cent for playing baseball or any other sport. The secretary of the union has issued to the baseball and lacrosse clubs notice cards setting forth the definition of an amateur. These cards were distributed to all the Winter clubs six months ago, from now on, therefore, no athlete will ever be able to plead ignorance of the amateur rules. The union some time ago announced that following the free distribution of these notices throughout the clubs, no application for reinstatement would ever be considered for breaches committed since the beginning of the year.

The following delegates were present at the meeting, President George W. Nicholson, A. Laity, W. D. Christensen, R. H. McInnes, A. Hawthornthwaite, J. Dakers, A. Manson, M. Moir and H. Skuce.

M'LAUGHLIN PLANS INDOOR TOURNAMENT

Champion Tennis Player Has Scheme for International Tennis Meet for Winter at Oakland.

OAKLAND, Cal., May 18.—Maurice McLaughlin, the world's greatest tennis player, is planning for next Winter an international indoor tennis tournament, to be played in the new $1,000,000 Municipal Auditorium in Oakland.

McLaughlin, who lives in Oakland, keeps in practice all the year round. During two months when the rains come, he finds difficulty in getting practice, and has been looking for a suitable place to put up Winter courts.

The Auditorium, recently opened, and in which 100 conventions will be held this Summer, is, according to McLaughlin, an ideal place for Winter tennis. The floor is of maple, and with a canvas covering would make a swift court. The floor in the arena is 214 by 90 feet, giving plenty of room for laying out the court.

"An international indoor tournament would be a big success, and I hope to see one in Oakland next Winter," said McLaughlin today. "I have been in correspondence with a number of the best men in the game, and a majority of them agree with me that such an event would be not only a novelty but a successful venture. The court would be faster than an outdoor court, and tennis records would be made that would set a standard for a long time to come. Oakland's warm Winter weather would make the conditions practically ideal."

McLaughlin has taken the matter up with the Oakland city officials, and has been assured that there will be no objection to the use of the Auditorium for such a purpose.

Rockland Lawn Tennis Club

The courts of the Rockland Lawn Tennis Club were opened for play on Monday last.

Y.M.C.A. Midgets

The Y.M.C.A. midget baseball team will play a practice game this evening at 6:30 against some older boys of the Y.M.C.A. at Central Park.

Griffiths and Mandot

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 18.—Johnny Griffiths, of Akron, Ohio, won the decision over Joe Mandot, of New Orleans, in an eight-round match here tonight.

Women's Golf Championship

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Miss Edith Cheseborough, of San Francisco, won the championship in the Panama-Pacific Exposition women's golf tournament, defeating Mrs. T. S. Baker, of the Burlingame Country Club in the final match.

Mitchell Outfights Wolgast

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 18.—Ritchie Mitchell, lightweight contender, outboxed and outfought Ad Wolgast in six rounds of a ten-round bout tonight. Mitchell broke his left hand in the fifth round, but continued throughout the bout, lacing Wolgast at will and met the latter at his own style of fighting.

For Lightweight Championship

Joe Bayley and Johnny O'Leary signed articles yesterday for a bout for the Canadian lightweight championship, to be brought off at Nanaimo on May 24. The weight agreed on is 133 pounds ringside. Sid Mitchell will be the referee. Bayley is in training for the contest and O'Leary has been busy getting into shape on the Mainland for some time past. Russ Leighton is the promoter of the contest.

Ritchie Meets Baldwin

BOSTON, Mass., May 18.—A twelve-round bout between Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion of America, and Mattie Baldwin, of this city, ended in a draw tonight. The champion forced the fighting constantly during the early rounds, and Baldwin was at a loss for defence. But after the sixth round the Boston man assumed the aggressive and landed blow after blow on Ritchie.

Will Go as Mascot

TORONTO, May 18.—Miss Gladys Ravenscroft, formerly British woman golf champion, who appeared on Canadian links a couple of years ago, has decided to go to the front with the "Bantams" regiment. She has been looking after the material comforts of the men ever since the corps was organized. The "Bantams" are composed of men under the regulation size. She marches at their head when they parade, and they look up to her and upon her as their mascot.

Austrians to Be Interned

EMERSON, Man., May 18.—Austrian unemployed numbering 175, who arrived here last Sunday en route to the United States from Winnipeg, were taken in charge by the Canadian military authorities today and sent to the alien prison camp at Brandon, Man., for internment.

LACROSSE OPENING ON MONDAY NEXT

Local Amateurs in Excellent Shape for Encounter With Westminster—Vancouver Rounds Out Team

The first senior lacrosse fixture of the local season takes place on Monday, when the Victoria twelve will play the New Westminster team at the Royal Athletic Park.

The local lacrosse supporters are feeling confident over the chances of their representatives to carry off the amateur honors for the season, some good form having been shown by the players in the work-outs so far. A practice is to be held on Thursday, after which the team to represent the city against the Westminster twelve will be definitely picked.

VANCOUVER, May 18.—Billy Fitzgerald, of St. Catharines, accounted by many competent critics the greatest lacrosse player who ever stepped into a Vancouver uniform, and by long odds the most popular, will again be found in the ranks of the Greenshirts this summer, having sealed an agreement with Con Jones.

Fitz will probably not be seen out for Vancouver in the first three games of the season, but will positively appear on June 12, upon which date Vancouver's second home game is scheduled.

With the acquisition of Fitzgerald, the Vancouver team is practically complete for the season. Manager Jones now has "Bons" Johnson and Davy Gibbons in goal: Roberts, Donihee, Fitzgerald, Allen, Crookall, Davis, Brynjolfson, Pickering, West, McCuaig, Painter, McLaren and Donihee as his defence section. Roberts and Donihee are expected in Vancouver early in the present week, and all the remaining players, with the exception of Fitzgerald, are already out in practice.

GOODWOOD DECLARED OFF

LONDON, May 18.—The Goodwood races, one of the fashionable sporting events of England, have been definitely abandoned this year. Lord Derby, speaking today at Wigan, said the Jockey Club had informed a representative of the Government he had only to say the word and racing would be stopped within twenty-four hours. If it went on, the Government was solely responsible.

FAREWELL RECEPTION TO BISHOP ROPER

Illuminated Addresses Presented to the Bishop-Elect of Ottawa on the Eve of His Departure.

The remarkable affection and loyalty that has been gained by the Rt. Rev. J. C. Roper during the three years in which he has been Bishop of the Diocese of British Columbia, was evinced by a large gathering at the Alexandra Club last night to wish him farewell in view of his coming departure to Ottawa. Not only were members of the congregational of the Cathedral Church present in force, but also many ministers and members of other denominations.

Archdeacon Scriven was in the chair and was supported by the Lieutenant-Governor and a large number of gentlemen associated with the Synod and the executive committee. Three illuminated addresses were presented to Bishop Roper. Rev. J. H. S. Sweet, clerical secretary of the Synod, read the address from the members of the executive committee; Mr. John Harvey read the address from the churchwardens and members of Christ Church Cathedral, while the address from the Social Service Commission was read by its secretary, Rev. Wm. Stevenson. The expressions of approval with which the addresses were received were splendid commendations of the labors of Bishop Roper in this diocese.

Mr. Lindley Crease, chancellor of the diocese, spoke to the address to behalf of the Synod. He reminded his audience of the character assumed by Forbes Robertson in "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," and made the statement that Bishop Roper had radiated a like sentiment of love and service since he had arrived in Victoria. He took the opportunity of thanking His Lordship for what he had done for all with whom he had come in contact, and how conscious he had made them of the great possibilities in this diocese.

Synod's Address

The address of the Synod was as follows:

To the Right Reverend John Charles Roper, D. D., Lord Bishop of British Columbia.

We, the members of the executive committee of the Synod of the Diocese of British Columbia, on behalf of the clergy and laity of the diocese, desire to express to your Lordship our profound sense of the loss which the Church in these parts is about to sustain in your departure from this Island and to become the Bishop of Ottawa.

In the three years during which you have been our Bishop, you have more than fulfilled the hopes and expectations which led us to invite you to preside over our diocese.

Your whole-hearted devotion and tireless energy; your conspicuous gifts of learning and scholarship; and, most of all, your unfailing sympathy extended to all of us in turn have won for you our unstinted admiration and our loyal affection.

We recognize that your call to the important See of Ottawa was one which your duty to the Church in the Dominion of Canada forbade you to refuse; and we confidently expect that, in that wider sphere of influence which awaits you, great advantages will flow to the Church at large from your counsels and leadership.

But we shall miss you sorely, and it is with hearts full of sorrow and of affection that we bid you farewell to our beloved Father in God.

(Signed) AUSTIN SCRIVEN,
Archdeacon of Vancouver.
(Signed) J. H. S. SWEET,
Clerical Secretary.
(Signed) LINDLEY CREASE,
Chancellor.
(Signed) PERCY WOLLASTON,
Treasurer.
(Signed) E. E. WOOTTON,
Registrar.
(Signed) FRED. W. BLANKENBACH,
Lay Secretary.

Mr. Percy Wollaston, treasurer of the diocese, also spoke to the address, and emphasized his sense of the kindness of heart that Bishop Roper had shown on every occasion.

Mr. E. C. B. Bagshawe, on behalf of the committee, dwelt on its cordial and happy relations with the Bishop, while Mr. R. W. Perry, speaking for St. John's Church, alluded to the loss that Victoria would sustain in the departure of his Lordship, though the sense of loss was brightened by the knowledge that he was passing to larger fields of usefulness.

Congregation's Address

The following address was presented to the Bishop on behalf of the churchwardens and members of the church committee of Christ Church Cathedral:

To the Right Reverend John Charles Roper, D. D., Lord Bishop of Columbia, Bishop-Elect of Ottawa:

We, the church wardens and members of the church committee of Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, British Columbia, desire to express on behalf of ourselves and of the congregation the deep regret which is felt at the loss the Diocese of Columbia is sustaining by your impending departure for the more responsible position to which you have been called, although at the same time we feel that it is only a fitting recognition of your general worth and scholarship. During the three years and more that we have had the privilege of knowing you as our Bishop, we have always felt that you were a real Father in God to us and that despite the many calls made upon you by this large and unwieldy diocese, to which you have so readily responded and which you have visited from end to end, you were ever accessible to anyone who needed your advice or guidance, which was freely given to rich and poor alike without the slightest distinction. We also wish to place on record our gratitude for your typical unselfishness in becoming our acting rector for the past three months, and for the earnest and scholarly sermons and advice you have given us on so many occasions, which we are confident will remain a lasting influence for good amongst us. We heartily wish you Godspeed in your new work and many years of health and happiness, and we trust that, although our shortcomings have been many, Your Lordship will nevertheless keep a warm place in your heart for us who occupy this outpost of the Empire.

Dated this 18th of May, 1915.

Church wardens—F. B. Warren, Jno. Harvey.

Church committee—A. E. Allen, H. E. Beasley, G. W. Anthony, E. E. Heath, R. Rose Sutherland, J. T. Towsend, Francis R. Exham, Thos. Elkinton, F. W. Jones, E. C. S. Bagshawe.

Social Service Commission

Rev. Wm. Stevenson and Rev. Dr. Scott were the spokesmen on the address from the Social Service Commission, of which Bishop Roper, in company with Bishop McDonald, is one of the honorary presidents. Both speakers acclaimed the catholic manner in which Bishop Roper had lent his invariable assistance to any movements for social improvements, and in which he had subordinated religious differences to Christian service.

Bishop Roper replied very warmly to the kind sentiments that the various speakers had uttered and expressed his heartfelt thanks for the illuminated addresses. He assured his hearers that the memory of the support and universal kindness he had received in this diocese would be an infinite encouragement in his future labors. Inasmuch as there was a possibility of his giving a series of lectures in Japan on some future occasion, he trusted that he would again have the opportunity of meeting his many friends in this city. His last official act in this diocese would be the installation of the new dean and he bespoke for him an affectionate welcome and the same kindly co-operation that had made His Lordship's bishopric so much a labor of joy.

STAGNATION RULING ON STOCK MARKET

Investors and Speculators Apparently Waiting for Developments in War Situation—Foreign Exchange Weak.

NEW YORK, May 18.—Dealings in stocks today were the smallest of any full session in over two months, the total turnover barely approximating 210,000 shares. Of this amount almost half the business was transacted in the first hour. Various reasons and theories were offered in explanation of the stagnant trading, the most plausible being that speculators as well as investors were waiting for some definite developments in the foreign situation. As a matter of fact the market has been thoroughly liquidated, and fresh bull or bear ammunition is insufficient to infuse life one way or another. The short interest made the most of some very unfavorable crop reports to depress prices. Declines averaged a full point in the leading shares, and a little more in stocks of less stability. Thereafter the list fluctuated narrowly, with occasional rallies, but declining again at the close.

Foreign exchange reflected the delicate state of international finances, Italian remittances standing at recent low quotations and francs going lower than before. Even sterling exchange exhibited unusual weakness, a fact attributed to advices from London to the effect that all British capital issues are to be suspended preliminary to the issuance of a new war loan.

Bonds moved in sympathy with stocks. Speculative issues showed general declines. Total sales (par value) $1,495,000. U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.
